

SIDNEY FRIEDMAN, MASTER OF ALL THINGS PSYCHIC, WOWS AUDIENCE

On Thursday, October 18th, more than 150 people gathered in the Mary Sachs Auditorium of the JCC in anticipation of the mysteries of the "Mentalist to the Stars" Sidney Friedman.

Friedman opened up the show with three people on stage asking them to think of a letter, a number, or an animal. He used his mental powers to guess each one correctly which totally amazed the entire audience.

Friedman emphasized throughout the night "Let's make the Impossible Possible, the Unattainable Attainable, and the Inconceivable Conceivable!" He used these ideals to "WOW" us with his ESP, telepathy, and mind power talents and also to relay a message of how important it is to support our community. He emphasized how a strong Jewish community can make a huge impact in someone's life. Friedman believes that people have the power in their minds to make a difference.

The highlight of his performance was his musical mind reading where JCC members thought of song melodies and Friedman telepathically sensed each tune before playing them on the piano.

"We are thrilled to have such an outstanding entertainer come to our JCC and help us kick off the programming/campaign season," said Andrea Weikert, JCC Program Director.

Friedman is a veteran entertainer who has performed at venues around the world and is a favorite of Federations across the country. He has performed on the "Today" show and "The View" and has been praised by many celebrities. Friedman is also the author of the national best-selling book Your Mind Knows More Than You Do which reached #8 on AMAZON.

Sidney Friedman was fun to watch and everyone was dazzled by his extraordinary talents. "He blew my mind," stated Leslie Wiener. "I am just speechless!"

"By combining fun with campaign we hope people will realize that their campaign dollars make events like this possible," said David Herman, Campaign Co-chairperson. "We hope this event will leave a positive impression, a new found passion for community, and a drive to increase one's involvement in the campaign and JCC programs."

The evening concluded with a dessert reception catered by Terry Fisher and partially underwritten by Giant®, at which Friedman mingled with our members and felt the warmth of the Harrisburg Jewish Community.

Year-end tax planning time again

By Howard Ross | Executive Director | Jewish Community Foundation of Central Pennsylvania

It is time for my annual reminder to think about your year-end tax planning. This year, especially, it is in your best interest to plan and take action.

You may want to consider several options for shifting income from 2013 to 2012 before year's end, particularly if your tax rate appears likely to climb next year. Of course, this will depend upon the outcome of the election and how Congress changes the tax laws.

You might consider selling appreciated stock to take advantage of the 15% capital gains rate scheduled to rise to 20% in 2013. If your adjusted gross income is above $200,000 and you are single or $250,000 and married, a sale in 2012 could avoid the 3.8% Medicare surtax on investment income, in addition to saving on the capital gains tax.

If you are over 70 1/2, you might consider taking withdrawals in excess of your required minimum distribution during 2012. The top tax on withdrawals in 2012 is 35%, compared with as much as 39.6% in 2013, in addition to the Medicare surtax. Additional distributions in 2012 will reduce the required distributions in future years. You could even convert the additional distributions to Roth IRAs.

For your charitable contributions, remember that a 2012 deduction is permitted for checks mailed as late as December 31, even though the charity does not receive or cash the check until 2013. The same is true of stock certificates mailed to the charity. If the stock is held in a brokerage account, you can instruct your broker in writing to transfer the stock into the charity's account. The gift is presumed complete when the donor gives written instructions to the broker. BUT... if the stock is being transferred from your account to the charity's account with the same broker, the stock must be transferred on or prior to December 31 for a 2012 deduction. (Note that it might be better to hold off until 2013 if income tax rates go up!).

Charitable gifts charged on a credit card must be done prior to the end of the year. Pledges are only deductible in the year that payment is actually made.

Please join The Women of Vision Philanthropic Fund for the 2012 Fall Event and Brunch on Sunday, November 11 at 9:30 am. Karen F. Snider will be our featured speaker. The topic for the presentation will be

“Education in Crisis: From Age 5 to 25”

The presentation will touch on all areas of education: from pre-schoolers dealing with budget cuts that threaten the existence of any public pre-school program, through young adults who are forgoing college due to the massive debts they will be required to incur. The underfunding of our educational system is two-pronged with lack of tax revenue from high unemployment and education costs that are spiraling out of reach for many Americans.

Karen Snider is the Executive Director of the Harrisburg Public Schools Foundation and the past Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare. She currently is President of Susquehanna Consulting and Financial Group, providing innovative consultation to both corporate and non-profit enterprises.

We hope you will join us. Please contact Michele at the Jewish Community Foundation for additional information and to register at (717)236-9555 or m.wickwire@jewishfedhbg.org.

The "New" Hebrew High

Where can you find 70 Jewish teens from 13 different schools and 6 different synagogues coming together to learn and socialize EVERY Sunday evening? Harrisburg Hebrew High! It is the place to be. Parents, teens and professionals met in late summer to determine the new direction our Hebrew High School should take. Through creativity, enthusiasm and the blessings of our Rabbis, we have reformatted the program. We are a huge success! We have energized our curriculum and enhanced classes to appeal to "Today's Teen." Courses include Jewish Values through Current Events; Jewish ReadersTheatre; Jews in Sports; Famous Jewish Criminals; That's Debatable and Bikkur Cholim just to name a few...

Each month, we also have an additional hour of programming to schmooze and interact with Jewish friends from all over Central PA. Activities planned include team building; trivia night; Chanukah party; coffee house/open mic night and a mitzvah basketball tourney! Hebrew High School and this wonderful programming have been generously underwritten by the Lois Lehrman Grass Foundation. Greater Harrisburg's teens are socializing and continuing their Jewish learning while building friendships and memories to last for a lifetime.

The feedback about our new programming has been so positive that teens don't want to miss Hebrew High on Sunday evenings. They are really enjoying the changes! If you have a teen who is interested in attending, Hebrew High, please contact Hallie Rosen at hallie143@comcast.net or Lillian Rappaport at l.rappaport@jewishfedhbg.org. We would love to have you join us!

Having a Blast at Flag Football

Imagine Sunday afternoon, beautiful weather, the smell of delicious grilled hot dogs and over 60 children having a blast while playing flag football.

This fall, the JCC offered another great season of NFL Flag Football program. NFL Flag Football promotes physical fitness and teaches youngsters valuable football lessons about teamwork and fair play. The game emphasized basic football skills of passing, catching, defending, and running. Participants learned about formations, pass patterns, and different types of defense.

Special thanks go to Ron Plesco and his family for helping to organize the league and maintain the field. Special thanks also go to Alex Halper and all of the volunteer coaches for their help and support.

HELP US CREATE DYNAMIC COMMUNITY PROGRAMS-- Sidney Friedman, Master of All Things Psychic, Wows Audience

Remember, giving shares of highly appreciated stock held for more than one year reaps double tax savings. First, there is a charitable deduction for the full fair market value of the stock; second, the donor avoids capital gains taxes of as much as 15% on the paper profit, making the "cost" of the gift much less.

If you own shares that have dropped in value (nah! Who would have any?), you also have the opportunity for double tax savings by selling the shares and contributing the proceeds to charity. You will be entitled to a capital loss deduction, which can offset other gains, and also receive the charitable deduction.

Finally, if you need income from gift assets, you can use appreciated property to fund a charitable gift annuity to provide you with lifetime income based on the full value of the property, with reduction or elimination of capital gains taxes. In addition, there will be a charitable deduction for a portion of the value of the assets used to fund the annuity.

Whatever you do, start planning now. December 31 will come at you before you know it!

GENOCIDE TO BE EXPLORED AT KRISTALLNACHT PROGRAM ON NOVEMBER 11.

The entire community is invited to observe the 74th anniversary of Kristallnacht, the night of broken glass that marked the beginning of the Shoah and the end for European Jewry.

On Sunday evening, November 11 at 7:00 pm at the Jewish Community Center, an interfaith, intergenerational and multi-cultural exploration of genocide will take place. Following the screening of short introductory films about the Holocaust and the Rwandan genocide, students from the Harrisburg Hebrew High School along with teens from the Harrisburg School District will discuss and explore the genocides particular to their ethnic group.

The term "Kristallnacht" ("Night of Broken Glass") refers to the organized anti-Jewish riots in Germany and Austria on November 9-10, 1938. These riots marked a major transition in Nazi policy, and were, in many ways, a harbinger of the "Final Solution."

Nazi anti-Semitic policy began with the systematic legal, economic, and social disenfranchisement of the Jews. This was accomplished in various stages (for example, the Nuremberg Laws of 1935, which, among other things, stripped German Jews of their citizenship.) One of these steps involved the deportation of 56,500 Polish Jews who were residing in Germany. On the night of October 27, 1938, 18,000 Polish Jews were deported, but were initially refused entry into Poland by the Polish authorities. Caught in between, the Jews were forced to camp out in makeshift shelters. Upon hearing that his family was so trapped, 17 year-old Herschel Grynszpan, a student in Paris, shot the third secretary of the German Embassy, Ernst vom Rath, whom he mistook for the ambassador.

This assassination served as a welcome pretext for the German initiation of Kristallnacht, the first violent pogrom on Western European soil in hundreds of years. 36 Jews were killed; 30,000 more were deported to concentration camps; 267 synagogues were burned and over 7,000 Jewish shops, businesses and homes were vandalized and ransacked.

There are important lessons to be drawn from Kristallnacht, for it served as a bridge experience for both Jews and Nazis. For the Jews, there was the terrifying realization that political anti-Semitism can lead to violence, even in western civilization. It also demonstrated that apathy can still pervade the world when the lives of Jews or other minorities are threatened.

For the Nazis, Kristallnacht taught that while the world might condemn their pogroms, it would not actively oppose them. World opinion, however, taught the Nazis the value of secrecy in the perpetration of future actions against Jews. On Kristallnacht, the stage was set for the "Final Solution"--the organized, bureaucratically efficient genocide of 6,000,000 men, women, and children.

According to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, the term "genocide" means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, as such:

- (a) Killing members of the group;
- (b) Causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group;
- (c) Deliberately inflicting on the group conditions of life calculated to bring about its physical destruction in whole or in part;
- (d) Imposing measures intended to prevent births within the group;
- (e) Forcibly transferring children of the group to another group.

Preventing genocide remains a challenge that nations and individuals continue to face.

Please join us at this important program.

Kesher Israel Congregation Welcomes Torah Tours to Harrisburg

By Rabbi Akiva Males

The conclusion of the holiday of Sukkos at KI was greatly enhanced by the presence of six energetic college students (three young men along with three young women) who joined our congregation through Yeshiva University's Torah Tours program.

Now in its third decade, the Aaron and Blanche Schreiber Torah Tours program shares the Torah knowledge and enthusiasm of Yeshiva University students with Jewish communities throughout the world. During the holiday celebration of Simchas Torah, teams of four to six young men and women visit communities across the United States, Canada, and Europe to teach Torah classes, lead singing and dancing, meet with synagogue youth, and create a fun and spirited Yom Tov experience.

Aside from providing a wonderful amount of liveliness to KI's services, the Torah Tours team did an excellent job at preparing and delivering thoughtful words of Torah at several of KI's programs. The students also did a great job at interacting with everyone in the congregation. The positive feedback has been phenomenal.

Kesher Israel Congregation sincerely thanks:

- Yeshiva University for their ongoing commitment to be of service to our congregation
- Bobby Snyder for generously sponsoring the Torah Tours team's travel expenses

TUESDAY EVENINGS WITH RABBI ERIC CYTRYN

A New Series on "Development of Judaism" at Beth El Temple

"From Rededicating the Temple to Hannukah: A Brief Survey of What Led Us to Judasim Today" is the topic for Rabbi Eric Cytryn's fall series of Adult Education classes at Beth El Temple. Classes will meet from 7:15 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in the Schein Annex on Tuesday evenings November 13 & 27 and December 4, 11 & 18.

Have you ever wondered what Judaism was like when the miracles of Hanukah occurred? Who were the Maccabees, the Hasmoneans, the Priests, the Pharisees, the Sadducees and the Essenes? When did the term "Rabbi" appear, and how did that group grow while others seem to have disappeared? What was Judaism like 2000 years ago; how different was it from Judaism today? What are the books of Mishna and Gemara, Talmud and Midrash: who wrote them, why and when? What does the term "Halacha" mean and when and how did prayer and deeds of loving kindness replace sacrifice?

Come to Rabbi Cytryn's November/December "Development of Judaism" classes and get all the answers and ask your own questions about how today's Judaism evolved from the Bible's Judaism. Light refreshments will be served. The community is invited.
