Middle School Girls Claim First Ever CPBL Title: Teamwork the key to victory

The HBG JCC Middle School Girls had a season of ups and downs. After winning seven of their first eight games, the girls hit a slump. The team which featured only four eight graders was young and undersized. However, when a team believes in itself and each other, magic can happen.

The girls went into the Central Pennsylvania Basketball League playoffs as the #2 seed and took on Carlisle Christian in the semi-finals. The girls were down early and trailed by 3 at the half.

The girls came out strong in the third quarter, but Carlisle Christian was not backing down and still maintained a 2-point lead as the fourth quarter started. The JCC team, known for its intense defense, outscored the Crusaders in the fourth quarter 14-5 to pull off the 36-29 victory. Scoring for the JCC was led by Madison Schwab with 10 points. Sixth grader Alexa Schwab credits the close-knit team's ability to work together as the reason the JCC was able to pull out the win after an early deficit, “We all watch out for each other like sisters, and that's why no other team can break us down."

The victory in the semi-finals gave the girls their first shot at the CPBL championship. The girls had a major hurdle to become #1 as they had to knock off top-seed Grace Baptist. During regular season action, the girls had lost to Grace Baptist twice by 7 points in the first meeting in early January and 11 points in the second match up just a week before playoffs. Despite losing earlier in the season, the girls came out believing in themselves and ready for the challenge.

The Championship lived up to the hype as the game came down to the last seconds. When the game was close, the girls knew they could pull out the win. Madison Schwab stated, “We believed in ourselves during the championship game because Terri taught us how to play as a team and rely on our teammates. We knew we could do it.” Despite an early lead, Grace Baptist fought back and was only down by two with possession of the ball with 12 seconds left in the game. The JCC’s lock-down defense managed to hold on, and the JCC won its first girls championship. “We won as a team and played as a team, and that’s what made us champions,” commented sixth grader Jenna Shoop.

“This group of girls is remarkable. Despite being very undersized and having lost earlier in the season to Grace Baptist, these girls never had a doubt they could accomplish their goal to win a championship. The strength of character and the fight these girls have is unmatched. I have never coached a team with this much heart and hustle,” commented JCC Coach Terri Travers.

The JCC middle school girls’ team is composed of the following players: 8th graders: Victoria Abel, Rebekah Guida, Sarah Guida and Deborah Guida. 7th graders: Yael Muroff, Anya Fox, Lexi Weikert and Madison Schwab. 6th Graders: Skyler Oken, Batsheva Gewirtz, Nina Brodsky, Alexa Schwab, Alexa Romanchock, Jenna Shoop, and Becca Smith.

YOM HASHOAH OBSERVANCES

HOLOCAUST MONUMENT OBSERVANCE

The commemoration at the Holocaust monument on Riverfront Park will take place on Sunday, April 7 at 11:00 am. Winners of the high school and middle school divisions of the Schwab Holocaust Essay contest will read their essays. Jean Chernicoff will share the Holocaust experiences of her mother, Lisl Winternitz Bogart, a Holocaust survivor from Czechoslovakia.

READING OF NAMES

On Sunday evening, April 7, Yom Hashoah (Holocaust Memorial Day) will be commemorated with the “Reading of Names” program to be held at Temple Ohev Sholom, 2345 North Front Street in Harrisburg. This meaningful program will begin at 7:30 PM with a special opening service led by children from congregational Religious Schools and the Silver Academy. Following the opening ceremony, a vigil in which the names of those who perished will be read continuously over a period of 24 hours.

“Unto Every Person There is a Name” seeks to dignify the memories of victims of the Shoah, the Nazi Holocaust, by reading their names aloud. These victims were stripped of their names by their oppressors and tattooed with numbers. Through the public reading of the names of Holocaust victims, this program strives to restore a portion of their humanity and to retrieve them from the lost depths of anonymity. For more information or if you would like to sign up for reading, please contact Lillian Rappaport at the Jewish Community Center, 236-9555, ext. 3402.

HOLOCAUST CIVIC COMMENORATION

The annual Holocaust Civic commemoration, co-sponsored by the Governor’s Office and the Pennsylvania Jewish Coalition, will occur in the Governor’s Reception Room in the State Capitol. More details will be forthcoming.

Is It Spring Yet?

I am tired of winter! Slushy, sloppy roads, salt and gravel, dirty car, dirty shoes are depressing. A lack of sunshine and cold make me want to climb under the covers. But hey! It’s Adar, Purim is past, Pesach is coming and that means warmer weather and sunshine! The flowers will be coming up, trees budding and the grass will again turn green.

And that means summer is right around the corner...yeah!

And summer means camp and swimming at Green Hills and visiting groups from Jewish camps from all over the United States and Canada while our students visit other Jewish communities.

From the time I was a youth, growing up at the JCC in Wilkes-Barre to today, summer has been and remains the best time of the year and, thanks to the available camping programs of the JCC, our kids (and grandkids) can enjoy the same fabulous, life shaping experiences.

But what about the future? Will our grandchildren and great grandchildren have these wonderful experiences? With costs climbing and the economy squeezing our children and grandchildren, I fear that these memories will be lost to future generations unless we do something to assure that camp and summer fun are there for them.

The only way to assure these memories for the future is to endow it; to create your own legacy based upon your own memories so that future generations will be able to have them too. It is passing on your traditions, like Shabbat and home baked challah, to your grandchildren and their children. It is passing your wealth of knowledge and history onto future generations; it is your legacy.

Please call or stop up to talk about how you can leave your legacy to assure that your grandchildren and great grandchildren will share the memories of great summers. Do not let them go through another winter without the sunshine produced when you dedicate the future to them.

FROM ART TO HEART

International Photography Exhibit Mending Hearts...Building Bridges
Presented by The Jewish Federation of Greater Harrisburg At Holy Spirit Hospital – February 10 to March 5

Sunday, February 10th was a beautiful day for the opening reception of the SACH exhibit. Yes, the weather was beautiful, but the collaboration between Holy Spirit Health System and the Jewish Federation of Greater Harrisburg on behalf of the “From Art To Heart” exhibit made the day truly shine.

The shared missions of JFGH, HSH, and SACH became evident through the meaningful remarks of Sister Romaine, CEO of Holy Spirit Health System and those of the Deputy Consul General of Israel, Elad Strohmayer, and our terrific young people, Danny Brill, Oze Henig and Jordan Klein. The recurring themes were: Caring for the sick, Bikur Cholim, Tikkun Olam, "repairing the world" (or "healing the world") which suggests humanity's shared responsibility to heal, repair and transform and Tzedakah, charity or righteousness.

The Maimonides Society would like to thank Sister Romaine and the Holy Spirit Health System for their help in sharing this important exhibit with central Pennsylvania.

Special thanks must go to Dr. Margaret Grotzinger, Maimonides Society Chair, the exhibit planning committee, Marty Brill, Jill Henig, and Marilynn Klein and to Daniel Shanken of Shanken Photography for sharing his time and expertise in hanging the exhibit.

"My co-workers were from Winnipeg, Melbourne, Ireland, China, Singapore, and Ethiopia, and children were from Tanzania, Angola, Zanzibar, and Ghana. Yet, all made tremendous sacrifices and transcended cultural differences to unite together in Israel for one goal: to save a child’s heart. Such care and dedication to human life is remarkable. I am privileged to count myself as a member of the international SACH community, and will remain a faithful supporter and contributor throughout my medical career. I encourage you too to aid such noble organizations with any means you possess."

-Danny Brill
On Sunday February 10th, the JCC Sports & Fitness Department Spinners came together to raise money and awareness for Save a Child’s Heart Foundation (SACH). The spin-a-thon was a 3 ½ hour endurance challenge from 9 a.m. – 12:30 p.m. where each spinner committed their time and effort, not to mention their legs, for the cause.

SACH (Save a Child’s Heart) Foundation is an organization that performs lifesaving surgery on children from developing countries. Surgery is performed in Israel. Children are from households and countries that would never have access to this lifesaving surgery without the Foundation. The Harrisburg Community has “adopted” a child and is committed to raising $10,000 to help her get her lifesaving surgery.

“You could feel the positive energy in the room,” said Arthur Kravitz JCC Sports & Fitness Committee Chair. “The spinners had determination not to stop but to keep going for the kids.”

The spin-a-thon consisted of four 45-minute spin classes. Each class had their own unique style to keep everyone motivated. The spin instructors were Michele Ruth, Lauren Jacobs, Gina McDonald and Arthur Kravitz.

The JCC Spinners were Michele Ruth, Lauren Jacobs, Gina McDonald, Arthur Kravitz, John Becker, Cyndi & Tom Brown, Roberta Silver, Phuongh Huynh, Dave Ralicki, Marcia Cohen, Pam Lupo, Scott Cooper, Amanda Cero, Mandy Cheskis, Alan Roumm, Mike Doctrow and Linda Skulsky. Each spinner was asked to raise a minimum of $100 to participate in the spin-a-thon. The top fundraiser was Roberta Silver with $377. Thanks to everyone’s hard work we raised $1,732.45 for SACH.

The Jewish Federation of Greater Harrisburg would like to acknowledge and thank the following individuals for their generosity. These funds will provide life-saving cardiac surgery in Israel by the SACH specialists for Glads Sollo, age 1, of Tanzania.

It’s All in the Family

On Sunday, February 17th, the HBG JCC took on the HBG JCC in what can only be described as a friendly scrimmage. The JCC Middle School Girls challenged the High School Girls to a game that allowed the younger and older players a chance to compete against each other as well as further build the relationship between the teams. Senior Annie Doctrow commented, “It was so nice playing with the younger girls and getting to know them. They are great players who I can’t wait to watch play more as they get older.”

The event began with a few drills and was quickly followed by the middle school and high school girls’ teams scrimmaging. Eventually the teams were mixed up and combined so that it was truly a chance for these groups to interact and play together. “This is what makes our program so special. Both groups were excited for this scrimmage. The Middle School group loved getting to compete against the more experienced team, and my high school girls were happy to give back to the program and play with the younger athletes.”

Senior Sophie K. Fox stated, “It was so much fun to be able to play the girls that will eventually be taking our spots on the high school team. They reminded us of ourselves at that age. It was like being able to play ourselves when we were in middle school.” Fox’s younger sister Anya, a 7th grader on the middle school team, followed up by stating, “It was really fun to play against the high school girls because they pushed us to work hard and they cheered us on.”

Middle School Boys Finish 2nd in CPBL Finals

The JCC’s Middle School Boys’ Basketball team capped off a season initially deemed a rebuilding year with an impressive second-place finish in the Central Pennsylvania Basketball League Finals and a winning record of 15-10. The team, which only returned 4 players from the 2011-2012 roster, finished well above expectations. More important than the record, the team truly improved its skills and level of play over the course of the season.

The boys won their semi-final playoff game with an impressive 45-29 victory over Carlisle Christian. The team was led by Isaiah Owens who had 24 points. Key play also came from fellow 8th graders Ian Rosen and Ethan Augustine and 7th graders Max Kasian and Matt Plesco.

The championship game, which was held on February 14, matched the JCC against conference rival Harrisburg Academy. The Academy won 34-22.

The JCC had a slow start to the game but came out fighting in the second half. “I was really proud that this group didn’t give up. They came out ready to play in the second half and fought back and made it into a game. They played hard until the final buzzer which would make any coach very proud,” commented Coach Terri Travers.

The 2012-2013 JCC Middle School Boys’ Team was composed of the following players: 8th Graders - Lincoln Weinstock, Kwame McCray, Ian Rosen, Ethan Augustine, and Isaiah Owens. 7th Graders - Hallel Cheskin, Max Kasian, Ethan VanBuskirk, Nathan Adler, Julian Sherr and Matthew Plesco. 6th Graders - Max Shore, Aaron Bobb, Henry Gold, Ryan Jacobs and Sam Goldberg.
JCC Offers New Programs for Families

The JCC just kicked off new and exciting programs for families with young children. The first program was called Cold-blooded Reptiles and Hot Chocolate. Families enjoyed a program with Bob and his critters followed by hot chocolate and donuts. For a list of upcoming programs please contact Andrea at a.weikert@jewishfedhbg.org.
Today there was an event that tied everything together and made me see more clearly why I love the JCC. ELC Teachers Miss Jean and Miss Corinne planned to make hamantaschen with the Pre-K class. Since all of my Ganeinu students are in Pre-K, I asked Miss Jean if I could join them and help out rather than do the same project with the same kids (Ganeinu and Pre-K often coordinate their learning experiences to enhance each other to the fullest). Pinching a three-cornered cookie is not the easiest thing in the world, especially for 4- and 5-year-olds. Ideas began to percolate. For the past 2-and-a-half years, it has been my privilege to teach the Ganeinu (Judaic Pre-K enrichment) class at the Silver Academy. Over that time, I have often joked that all I need is a cot in my room so I can sleep there because I seem to live in the building.

The Jewish Future. Make It Real.
From Afghanistan to Israel: KI Helps
Lift the Morale of Our Brave Soldiers
By Rabbi Akiva Males

Do you remember how great it felt to receive a care package from back home when you were off at camp or school? What if you were an active-duty Jewish soldier out in the field during the High Holiday season -- instead of a camper or college student? Can you imagine how lonely it must feel to be away from family and friends -- and the comforts of home -- during such a special time of the year? Now imagine how a deployed Jewish soldier must appreciate receiving a care package during the High Holidays.

Kesher Israel Congregation decided that it wanted to play some role in lifting the spirits of our brave soldiers who were so far removed from a normal Yom Tov setting. After getting in touch with Lt. Col. Avi Weiss of Chicago, IL (holding the Havdallah candle in the picture at right) -- an Orthodox US Army chaplain stationed in Afghanistan -- I confirmed that he would be happy to distribute Shanah Tovah “pick-me-up items” to Jewish GIs on behalf of KI.

After filling two large boxes with generously donated Kosher treats and useful goods, Kesher Israel Congregation shipped our packages off to Afghanistan on August 17 -- a full month before Rosh Hashanah. Rabbi Weiss recently e-mailed me that KI’s packages arrived intact prior to Rosh Hashanah, and that he gladly shared their contents with many of our very appreciative Jewish GIs in Afghanistan.

After doing something for our Jewish American GIs, KI was also eager to find a way to lift the spirits of Israel’s active-duty Chayalim (soldiers) over the holiday of Sukkot. I was excited to learn about a wonderful project of the International Young Israel Movement (IYIM) which greatly helps boost the morale of the soldiers of the Israeli Defense Forces (IDF) each year during Sukkot.

On the intermediate days of Sukkot, IYIM together with the IDF Rabbinate travels with a mobile Sukkah -- attached to the back of an IDF truck -- from base to base, guard post to guard post, and visits thousands of soldiers on active combat duty. Each soldier is warmly greeted by members of the IDF Rabbinate, and given the opportunity to enter the Sukkah, have a drink and a snack, shake the Lulav and Etrog, and receive a small festival package of goodies.

This year’s IYIM Sukkot project was once again a great hit with Israel’s brave soldiers.

Rabbi Yedidya Atlas of the IDF Rabbinate stated: “We are very grateful to our brethren for allowing this year’s campaign to be such a success. The soldiers can feel the warmth of brotherhood across the seas, and this gives them even more strength to continue in their mission of ensuring the security of the people of Israel.” Kesher Israel’s Rabbi’s Discretionary Fund thanks the generous donors who enabled our synagogue to be counted among the list of sponsors who made this wonderful project possible.

We are JFS Senior Links: How can we assist you?

Paige Faulk, MSW, LSW

Jewish Family Service has a new name for its Senior Services Program, Senior Links. JFS wants to let our seniors know that we are the link connecting them to JFS case managers, licensed professionals who will be their advocates in the community.

When is it time to call Senior Links for yourself or someone you know?
- Feeling overwhelmed with financial tasks, such as bill-paying
- Being financially exploited by a family member or someone else
- Needing assistance making your home a more safe place to live
- Facing the possibility of not being able to drive oneself to doctor appointments anymore
- Having an advocate who has become overwhelmed by your financial and health responsibilities and needs a respite
- Living at a distance and not being able to assist with the needs of your older loved one who lives in our local community

If you answer “yes” to any of these questions, we would welcome you to call us at Senior Links. JFS Senior Links case managers collaborate with their clients to help meet their individual needs and concerns. Designing and implementing an individualized plan for each client is done with care and attention to detail. Every Senior Links client is treated with respect and dignity.

JFS Senior Links Care Managers are a resource for senior citizens in our community who need Case Management or Medical/Financial POA Services. Please call us at 717-233-1681 if you think that you or someone you know may benefit from Senior Links.

The Whole Megillah

By Jodie Raffensperger, Turning 4s Teacher

In our Turning 4s class in the Brenner Family Early Learning Center, we like to use many activities to strengthen our emerging literacy skills. As the holiday Purim was approaching we were telling and retelling the story of Esther. This group of children loves this story but who doesn’t like a story about a king, a queen, and a bad guy? They also like dressing us as the characters and performing the story themselves. And so we decided to create our own Megillah.

The children dressed up and I “filmed” their telling of the story. Since I am not very computer savvy, I knew I needed help to accomplish what I could see in my head. I contacted Tammy Reid who teaches Ganeinu at the Silver Academy and whose three children I’ve had the pleasure of teaching myself. She’s also the guru of computer graphics. Together, we took the photos of the children and their quotes form the story and created our Megillah. We made a large one for the classroom to display and miniature ones for the children to keep and take home.

It was a great collaborative activity. We are grateful for Tammy’s help!

Cortney Lynn

Personal Trainer, TRX Instructor, Group Fitness Instructor

Tell us about yourself:
I graduated college with a degree in Marketing, but later discovered my passion was for fitness and wellness. After years of educating myself and changing my lifestyle, I knew I wanted to educate and train others. This led me to get my personal training certification. I enjoy running, hiking and being outdoors, in general, when the weather is nice. I love to travel and visit new places, and am always up for trying new things.

What do you like best about your job?
The thing I like best about my job is motivating others to live a healthier lifestyle. It’s an amazing feeling when you see a client feel that motivation and push themselves just a little bit harder. Whether it’s simply them asking me questions so they can learn, or a client telling me how great they feel after a workout, I know I’m making a difference in their life.

What motivates you?
Challenge. I’m constantly challenging myself to push harder or to try something new. When you challenge yourself, it makes for great motivation.

What are you like as a Personal Trainer?
Encouraging...I want to see my clients succeed in reaching their goals. While I will encourage you, I will also push you to keep going. Everyone needs that push to prove to themselves that they can do it.

We Can All Become Advocates for Israel
By Rabbi Akiva Males

Although it’s hard to believe, the Hebrew month of Adar will soon be over. Just recently, Jews all over the world gathered to read the Megillah of Esther, and became reacquainted with Esther, Mordechai, Achashveirosh, Vashti, and Haman (“Boooo”).

We’re all familiar with events of the Scroll of Esther, and how Esther realized that she was given the unique opportunity to save her people from complete destruction.

While it’s hard to imagine that any of us will ever find ourselves in Esther’s shoes, we each have the opportunity to be advocates for our people as well as Israel to one degree or another.

Back in December of 2012, only nine countries stood with Israel during an important vote at the United Nations. That Shabbos, I shared with the congregation how I felt it was important for us to write the leaders of those nine nations and thank them for their steadfast support of our brothers and sisters in Israel.

I did just that in the following days. At the beginning of February, I received the following letter from Stephen Harper -- the Prime Minister of Canada:

Dear Rabbi Males,

Thank you for your kind correspondence of December 4.

I appreciated receiving your positive input with respect to my Government’s support for the State of Israel.

Please know that your thoughtful words of encouragement are greatly valued.

Once again, thank you for taking the time to write.

Sincerely,

Stephen Harper
Prime Minister of Canada

Although my attempts at advocacy were a far cry from Esther’s Biblical plea, they still seem to have been appreciated. Those involved in lobbying efforts constantly remind us that democratically elected leaders are always interested to know what people think about their decisions. We can be certain that those who seek to undermine Israel are hard at work making their voices heard. What attempts are we making to offset the efforts of those who seek Israel’s demise?

May Esther -- and her advocacy for her people -- serve as a role model to each of us. May G-d continue look over and guard our people -- just as He did in the days of Mordechai and Esther.

READING OF NAMES SCHEDULED FOR APRIL 7-8 AT TEMPLE OHEV SHOLOM

Join the Jewish community on Sunday evening, April 7, 2013 at Temple Ohev Sholom to commemorate Yom Hashoah with the Reading of Names, a vigil in which the names of our Kedoshim (those who lost their lives during the Holocaust) are read continuously over a period of 24 hours.

In order to continue passing the torch of memory to the next generation, students from congregational Religious Schools as well as the Silver Academy will take part on the conduct of the opening ceremony.

Names are being read by a variety of Jewish and non-Jewish groups and individuals, congregations, organizations, youth groups and churches have signed on to read for portions of the vigil.

Unto Every Person There is a Name seeks to dignify the memories of the victims of the Shoah (the Nazi Holocaust) by reading their names aloud. These victims were stripped of their names by their oppressors and tattooed with numbers. Through the public reading of the names of Holocaust victims, this program strives to restore a portion of their humanity and to retrieve them for the lost depths of anonymity.

If you would like to have the opportunity to participate in the Reading of Names, please contact Lillian Rappaport at 236-9555, ext. 3402.

There’s No Place like Home
By David and Elaine Budoff

When we moved to Harrisburg four-and-a-half years ago, who knew that we would be so lucky to find the Residence at The Jewish Home, our little Jewish community, where we would be made to feel so comfortable and so welcomed?

We have had many parties here at the Residence. Recently, we enjoyed the best New Year’s Eve celebration since we moved in. We loved the festive decorations, dancing and atmosphere that were beautifully created by Pat Rapp, Program Director of The Residence, and her family. Pat orchestrated volunteers, decorations, music and dancing.

We appreciate Pat’s efforts and hope that her work, which goes above and beyond, is given recognition.
Alexa Jill Schwab will be called to the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah on Saturday March 16, 2013 with Dr. Andrea Lieber officiating and Rabbi Peter Kessler giving the family blessing. Alexa is a 6th grader at Linglestown Middle School. She graduated elementary school from the Silver Academy and attended the Early Learning Center at the JCC for preschool. Alexa grew up with the JCC as her second home and continues to support any and every event she can. Her parents, Patty and Dan Schwab, and her brother and sister, Sammy and Madison, are so proud of Alexa and all her accomplishments. Alexa studied independently with Dr. Lieber and Marian Frankston for a year, in preparation for her Bat Mitzvah.

Alexa’s mitzvah project became 3 projects woven together. The first one- Alexa and friends were Puppy Huggers for the Keystone Service Dogs. These service dogs change the lives of a person that is not capable of doing certain tasks or needs the company of a service dog. Alexa’s next project was to run the Josh Klein 5k with her soccer team and became the largest team group the race has ever had when all their friends and family joined as well. Alexa read about Josh’s biography to all the participants and learned that no matter how little or big a goal can be – you can accomplish it – just like Josh did when he played his first season of soccer while sick. With donations that Alexa raised from the 5k, she then purchased mini soccer balls and over 50 undecorated cupcakes and they took them to the Ronald McDonald House in Hershey. This house provides a wonderful place for families to stay while their child is receiving chemotherapy and other cancer treatments. Alexa and friends donated the soccer balls to families and kids to play with during their stay and decorated all the cupcakes for a delicious treat after a long day. The Patriot News even covered this story.

Alexa is a huge sports lover, playing travel soccer with her MAGIC soccer team, playing middle school basketball for the amazing Terri Travers, and playing on the SMASHING ACES tennis team. Alexa has learned, through sports, the importance of teamwork and achieving your goals and to be proud of who you are. In the summertime, you will find Alexa at Camp Nockamixon where she has spent the last five summers with all her cousins. Alexa always has a huge smile on her face and is excited for each and every day. Her grandparents, Elaine and Izzy Schwab, Jack and Lois Kassel and Terry Kassel (’z’) could not be more proud.
