to offer.

Expresso Upright Bike: The Expresso Upright Bike is truly unique. Mounted on the bike is a vivid 19" LCD screen. This allows you to ride against virtual riders on a number of different courses ranging from track to a trek through the forest. To appease the more serious riders, there is a SPD clip on the pedals and moveable handlebars with shifting buttons for easy steering and gear shifting. The bike connects to the Internet wirelessly allowing you to race against people next to you. The bike is also capable of storing your previous rides so you can race against yourself. This is one of the most interactive, advanced pieces of cardio equipment out there! Nothing can compare or can keep exercise enthusiasts engaged like our Expresso Upright Bikes!

The Fitness Center is coming back to the Harrisburg JCC. After months of recovery, the JCC has finally taken numerous positive steps forward. The walls have been painted, floors have been laid and lockers have been delivered and installed. In addition to that, more positive changes continue to take place. "We are very excited to announce the arrival of 5 new pieces of cardio equipment," stated Sports and Fitness Director Terri Travers.

New to the Fitness Center is a PreCor Treadmill, a Recumbent Bike, a PreCor AMT and two Expresso Upright Bikes. The following is a description of each new piece of equipment and some of the highlights each one has

GREAT FILMS CONTINUE THROUGH THE WEEKEND AS THE JEWISH FILM FESTIVAL COMES TO A CLOSE

The Harrisburg Jewish Film Festival continues through the weekend at the State Museum of Pennsylvania. This afternoon (Friday, May 18th), join us for a 5:30 encore screening of Intimate Grammar, a poignant drama based on best-selling Israeli author David Grossman's novel, The Book of Intimate Grammar. Awarded Best Feature Film at the Jerusalem International Film Festival, this story of a pre-adolescent growing up in 1960s Jerusalem will stay with you for a long time to come.

Saturday is "Date Night" at the Jewish Film Festival, with an 8:00 p.m. encore screening of

The Names of Love. This R-rated French comedy was awarded Best Foreign Film in AARP's "Movies for Grown-Ups" awards, and not without reason; it is delightful and sexy, even as it explores serious issues of racial and cultural identity in contemporary culture. Great fun!

The afternoon of Sunday the 20th will begin with two encore screenings. At 2:00, we will feature Remembrance, a love story based on true events, which begins in a concentration camp in Poland and - despite time and distance - never ends. And at 4:00 screens something completely different, The Infidel, a British comedy "of ethnic proportions."

AND PLEASE DON'T MISS OUR CLOSING EVENT! Sunday evening at 6:30 we are pleased to present David, a lovely film about growing up and fitting in, set in the Jewish and Muslim neighborhoods of contemporary Brooklyn. Join executive producer Stephanie Levy and the film's star, Muatesem Mishal, for a Q&A after the show, which will be followed by a closing night reception.

We look forward to sharing this last weekend of great cinema with you. For more information, please visit our website (www.hbgjff.com). See you at the movies!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

On most days, as I walk through the JCC, I'm usually breaking into a smile. I literally grew up in this building...I know every square inch of it—and it has been “home” for as long as I can remember.

So much happens here every single day. Here's a snapshot of my past week at the JCC. It began for me on Shabbat when I attended Chisuk Emuna services. Since its fire, the shul has taken temporary residence at the JCC and its services, programs, Religious School and all other activities happen right here in this building. The JCC has always been “there” when our community needed it. When Beth El was under construction, the JCC was there. When Ohev Sholom had its fire, the Religious School moved here the next day. What would we have done without this building??

On Sunday, a community-wide celebration of Yom Ha'atzmaut, Israel's 64th birthday, organized by the Principals Council, took place at the JCC. Children of all ages, from all congregations and schools, participated in arts & crafts, soccer, gaga, an archaeological dig, and lots more. Moms and Dads were here as were bubbies and zaydes. The place was packed. A great time was had by all as we celebrated Israel. Just one more example of our Jewish community at its finest.

On Tuesday, after our staff meeting, I went upstairs to the Silver Academy to teach Spanish to the most adorable and sweet 6th and 8th graders. As a special treat, we come down to the Kosher Cocoa Café once a month (if they behave—which they always do), get some great snacks, and have class at the café. Those kids are simply the best and I love seeing another generation of young people being “raised” in this building, just as I was.

I'm a lap swimmer. As I was approaching the locker room (with new carpeting, fresh paint, new lockers—it looks better than ever), I saw my friend Ricci D and we schmoozed for a while. Ricci had just used some of the new equipment down in the fitness area and gave rave reviews. When I finally made it into the pool, Mary A was in the lane next to me. Mary's one of our regulars, a youthful, energetic 90+ -year-old lady who can swim circles around me!

When I came back upstairs to my office, I heard music coming from the Mary Sachs auditorium. I headed over. The senior adult men were singing a rousing rendition of “There is Nothing Like a Dame” in preparation for the senior talent show next week. They were great! How could you not smile at that?

Back at my desk...and I hear the lunchtime basketball guys shooting hoops in the gym right behind my office. Soon, Jean C will be coming down the hall with, what I call, her “munchkins,” the aftercare children who arrive at the JCC in the afternoons to get TLC from Jean and have fun while they're doing it.

On any given day, this building is alive. From the babies downstairs to the senior adults in the Mary Sachs; from the aquacize ladies in the pool to the teens in the gym; from the Hebrew High kids on Sunday nights to the Lunch 'n Learner's---day and night, the JCC is bustling with sports, education, activities, meetings—you name it.

We all know that it's been a tough couple of months, but the JCC is back. So...for those of you who have been on hiatus, come back to the JCC. It's home and there's no place like it...

SENIOR FOOTNOTE

By Esther Boldes

On Thursday April 26, 2012, our speaker Mr. John N. Maietta gave a presentation about the beautiful city of Vienna, Austria. Since he touched only briefly on the history of Jews in that city and of its famous and infamous Jewish citizens like Freud, Adler and Hitler, of all people, I went on the Internet into Wikipedia to uncover some more facts, relevant and not so relevant to this subject.

Here goes: Now still mostly admired and famous for Waltzes and confections (my daughter-in-law's mother made strudel filled with anything - she was from Vienna), Vienna was also the provincial capital of the German Reich. Starting in 1938, the Nazis annexed Austria and remained there until 1945, when the war in Europe ended with their defeat.

In earlier history starting in the 12th century, the murder of Jewish citizens in Vienna was sanctioned by the pope himself. However, during the Plague epidemic in the years 1348-9, Vienna was one of the few cities which did not blame Jews for the outbreak. The “Judenplatz” in the city's center had one of Europe's largest synagogues. In 1420, Duke Albrecht the Fifth confiscated all Jewish property, expelled what amounted then to 5% of the city's population, and the stones from the destroyed temple were used to build the University of Vienna.

In 1451 during Ukraine's pogroms and persecutions, the Habsburg emperor gave special dispensation for the return of Jews to Vienna. By 1624, the quarter in the city was then called “Leopoldstadt.” This ghetto and its two synagogues were destroyed in the year 1670 by Leopold the First. And so it went.

The Jewish Renaissance in the city began in 1848 with people being granted full citizenship, and it lasted until the start of WWII. There were many prominent Jewish physicians like Sigmund Freud, Alfred Adler, Wilhelm Reich and Theo Reik. The theologian Martin Buber became famous. In the field of music and theater there were Gustav Mahler, Arnold Schonberg, Max Reinhart, Oscar Strauss, Emerich Kalman and Frank Kafka. Theodore Herzl and Max Nordau, the Zionists, came from Vienna. At the time of the Anschluss in 1938, there were 40 smaller Shuls and Minjans in the city. In 1938, the Jewish population counted at 185,000.

When the Nazis enacted the Nuremberg racial laws and the wearing of the Judenstar, 130,000 left Austria including 30,000 who went to the U.S.A. Out of 65,000 Jews sent to Dachau and other camps, only 2,000 survived, 800 managed to hide till after the war ended. I will not write about the infamous Kurt Waldheim. My story is getting too long. But only late in 1980 did the Austrian government examine its role in the Holocaust, and in 1991 it finally issued a statement as to the role in the crimes perpetrated. Now they have a new problem with the rise of Joerg Haider and his ultra National and Anti-Semitic Freedom party.

The Jewish population now counts 15,000. The “Judenplatz” holds a museum with one room from the synagogue destroyed 500 years ago. The memorial to the Austrian Holocaust victims was unveiled in 2000. The reinforced concrete cube represents the 7,000 books turned inside out. The doors are locked, and the books face inward. The base has the names of the places where the 65,000 Austrian Jews were murdered. The memorial was created by the British artist Rachel Witeread. The barred room and the books which cannot be read, represent the great loss of the murdered victims. There is another historic site at Manthausen, perhaps the worst concentration camp known. It is located on the Blue Danube River near the city of Linz.

I have tried to mention only the most relevant facts. Anyone of you can go on your computer and look up “The Virtual Jewish History Tour” by Rebecca Weiner.

Shalom!

Foundation of the Foundation

"All We Want Is Money!" Reprise...

By Howard Ross | Executive Director | Jewish Community Foundation of Central Pennsylvania

Last year I wrote the words below. They are especially apropos this year, as we recover from the flood of 2011. I offer them again.....

Each and every one of us offers a product to our community in exchange for money, the medium of exchange (OK, there may be some bartering, but it is quite minimal). If we sell shoes, we exchange the product for money; if we offer dental services, we do so for money, etc. Our medium of exchange is the dollar.

Your Federation and Jewish Community Center offer you so many products, they are difficult to enumerate. Let us start with a home for the Jewish community. In that "home" is offered a school; a swimming pool with classes, open swimming, a swim team; a gymnasium with basketball teams from the iddy-biddy to the senior adult, as well as numerous other gymnasium based programs; handball courts; cultural events such as movies and lectures; parties and other events celebrating our religious heritage; a lunch and socialization program for our seniors; treadmills, weight machines, a massage table; a summer outdoor swim club and this is only the beginning.

Like our other home, this one requires heat, light, water, cleaning and professionals to maintain the facility and all of the programs we do in our home. Believe me; if we do not pay the electricity, water or oil bill, those who provide them will not keep us in supply. If our professionals, upon whom you rely for the programs and services in our "home" are not paid for their work, they will be forced to go where they will receive the medium of exchange, money, for their labors.

Remember, they too have to pay for heat and light and food!

The fact is that we have a home in our Federation/JCC and like everything else; we must provide the money to keep it operating. Fortunately, we all do this together when we give to the Annual Campaign and participate as members of the JCC.

This applies as well to your synagogue, the Jewish Home, Jewish Family Service and Silver Academy; they have to pay for light, heat, and staff.

So yes, like every other business or organization providing you with services and products, we require the funds to operate. In our community we have a wonderful history of assuring a "home". With your continuing contributions, we shall assure it is there for you, your children and your grandchildren!

If you have not made your annual gift, please do so now. If the Foundation can help in any way, give me a call.

JCC SENIOR ADULT CLUB HOSTS
STUART, SARA and ZEV MALINA
SAVE THE DATE - JUNE 19, 2012 !!!

The Harrisburg JCC's Senior Adult Club is most excited to announce that Maestro Stuart Malina and his daughter, Sara and son, Zev will be presenting a musical program for our members on Tuesday, June 19, 2012, for our after-lunch entertainment.

Maestro Stuart Malina is one of America's most versatile and accomplished conductors. In a wide variety of concerts, from masterworks and grand opera to pops, Maestro Malina's ease on the podium, engaging personality, and insightful interpretations have thrilled audiences and helped to break down the barriers between performer and listener wherever he has worked. Now in his 12th season as Music Director and Conductor of the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra, Stuart Malina has also held appointments at the Greensboro Symphony Orchestra (Music Director, 1996-2003), and the Charleston Symphony Orchestra (Associate Conductor, 1993-97).

Maestro Malina made his Carnegie Hall debut in February 2007, conducting the New York Pops in an all-Gershwin tribute including Rhapsody in Blue, which he conducted from the keyboard, and returned to Carnegie and the Pops in October 2007.

He has recently performed with the symphony orchestras of Hong Kong, Naples, FL, New Mexico, Tampa/St. Petersburg, Charleston and Greensboro.

Maestro Malina's activities also extend to Broadway. In June 2003, he won the prestigious TONY award for orchestration with Billy Joel for the musical Movin' Out, which Malina helped create with director/choreographer Twyla Tharp. He also appeared as an actor in Terrence McNally's Tony-award winning play Master Class, opposite Zoe Caldwell at the Kennedy Center in Washington, DC. An accomplished concert pianist, Maestro Malina has frequently been engaged for the Market Square Concerts series in Harrisburg, as well as Music for a Great Space in North Carolina.

Stuart Malina holds degrees from Harvard University, the Yale School of Music, and the Curtis Institute of Music, where he studied conducting with Otto-Werner Mueller.

He studied piano with Drora and Baruch Arnon and with Keiko Sato.

I'm sure we will have many members who won't want to miss this opportunity to hear Maestro Malina and his children's musical performance. Please make your reservations early and no later than Tuesday June 12th, so we can accommodate all those who would like to attend. Call Cheryl at 236-9555 Ext. 3115 for your reservations. Cost for lunch and program is $10 for Senior Adult Club Members/$20 for Non-Members.

Help Wanted from Generation Y!

By Lauren E. Jacobs
Annual Campaign Associate

We live in a world where Generation Y is so self-absorbed with their own lives that we tend to forget the community that helped raise us to become the people we are today. I have been a member of the Harrisburg Jewish Community since I was born in 1980. A day does not pass that I'm not involved with the community, whether it be attending summer camp, swim team, Birthright or working out in the Fitness Center. These experiences have made one thing clear to me: We have to keep the Jewish Community alive in Harrisburg.

In the past, we were very fortunate to have generous donors who helped the community maintain the programs and services we have grown to love. Throughout the years these donors, who have now passed on or moved away, have supported our community. Unfortunately, our community has been guilty of depending on these donors to help "bail us out" of our economic trouble. That brings us to the situation we are in today.

We, as the younger generation, cannot imagine driving down Front Street and seeing no JCC. We have to keep one thing in mind...you are not donating to the building but donating to the ideals of the Jewish Community. Let's ask this question: What are you going to do when the doors are closed and you cannot get into the building? Where are you going to go to send your kids to summer day camp or drop them off at the Brenner Family Early Learning Center? What about the all the sports programs (swim team, basketball, flag football)? What about hearing from prominent speakers about important issues of our Jewish culture/heritage? These are questions you need to ask yourself.

We have to stop thinking about ourselves and start thinking about the greater good of the Jewish Community. We are done with the "bail outs" from the major donors. We as a Jewish Community have to become the next major donor. This is the time to stand up and make a difference to ensure that Jewish Community is around for future generations. Let our generation be the lifesavers of the Jewish Community. We hold all the cards to the future.

BAR MITZVAH – JACOB IAN HALBERT

Jacob Ian Halbert will be called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, June 9, 2012 at Beth El Temple. Jacob is son to Julie and Jim Halbert, and older brother to William.

Jacob is a 7th grade student at Harrisburg Academy. Jacob is a multi-faceted young man. He is very witty, enjoys music, art, tennis, and hockey, and he excels in school and really enjoys water sports. He is an avid boater, kayaker, jet skier, and snow skier in the winter. Jacob also is a hockey fan, whether playing street hockey or attending professional hockey games with his dad, Uncle Doug, cousin Kyra and brother William. Jacob plays the violin in the Middle School Orchestra, plus the piano and guitar for fun. His love of music comes from his MiMi (Jim's mom) who is very musically inclined, as was her mom, a concert pianist. Not to mention his Pop Pop, who played the violin, too. Perhaps, the most important thing to Jacob is his family and friends. He just returned from Israel completing a b'nai mitzvah with his cousin Brett from Chicago. While in Israel, he climbed Masada with his Gramma Cynthia, Pa Pa Stanley, Uncle Mark, Rhondi, William and his cousins Geena and Justin. During the summer, Jacob attends Emma Kaufmann Camp where he has met lifetime friends. Jacob looks forward to sharing his bar mitzvah with his grandparents and all of his family and friends. He appreciates Aunt Devra, Uncle Mark, and Uncle Les sharing in the reading of Torah in his honor. He enthusiastically decided about his mitzvah project when he was in Israel.

"My mitzvah project is to sponsor table tennis athletes and to contribute to the building of an expansive table tennis center for athletes at the Israel Sports Center for the Disabled. I recently visited the center in Ramat Gan, near Tel Aviv, with Am Shalom of Glencoe, IL. This is an amazing place making young Jewish athletes dreams come true. I am proud to work on this project. I have set up a bar mitzvah fund with the Harrisburg Jewish Foundation."

Please support my efforts by writing a check to the Jewish Community Foundation and in the memo insert: Jacob Halbert /Israel Sports Center for the Disabled.

You can also go to my mitzvah project link and make a donation directly online at <http://fiscd.org/mitzvah/jacob.php>

FRIENDS OF THE ISRAEL SPORT CENTER FOR THE DISABLED

MITZVAH PROJECT: JACOB HALBERT

My mitzvah project is to sponsor table tennis athletes and to contribute to the building of an expansive table tennis center for athletes at the Israel Sports Center for the Disabled. I recently visited the center in Ramat Gan, near Tel Aviv, with Am Shalom of Glencoe, IL.

The Israel Sport Center for the Disabled is one of the world pioneers in the field of sports rehabilitation. The Center opened its gates in 1960 and specializes in the physical and psychological rehabilitation of children and youth. For more than fifty years, our remarkable staff and volunteers have encouraged the disabled to participate in a variety of sports activities and to benefit from the countless ways in which sports is healing.

The spirit and motivation of sport is used to help guide the disabled from a state of helplessness to productive, fulfilling lives. Sports activities contribute more to the confidence, morale, and self-image of the disabled than any other form of rehabilitation. For more than 50 years, the Center's sports activities have proven to prolong life expectancy of the seriously disabled. Today, more than 3,000 kids and adults participate in 20 different sports activities without discrimination of religion, race, or ethnicity.

I have set up a bar mitzvah fund with the Harrisburg Jewish Foundation. Please support my efforts by writing a check to the Jewish Community Foundation and in the memo insert: Jacob Halbert /Israel Sports Center for the Disabled. I also plan to go to Chicago to play in their table tennis tournament this fall to raise money for this project. Please see below to make a direct online donation to help me sponsor table tennis athletes and to expand the new Israel Sport Center facility which will allow for greater participation and opportunities for these amazing athletes.

Thank you in advance for helping making the athletes' dreams come true.

Beth El Temple will hold a tikkun evening of prayer and study on Sunday, May 27, the second night of Shavuot. In study and interactive discussion we will grapple with the theme of "The Death Penalty: Does Judaism Teach What I Believe." Rabbi Eric Cytryn along with guest presenters Dr. Andrea Lieber, Associate Professor of Religion at Dickinson College, and Rev. Jean Kuebler of Big Spring United Lutheran Church, will challenge our thinking on this critical and timely topic. We will all have the opportunity to weigh in with our opinion based on the information we will learn.

Nationally, capital punishment is under attack. Seventeen states have decided not to enact the death penalty as a sentencing option, and a national movement is lobbying to convince at least nine more states to do the same to achieve a majority of the states rejecting the validity of taking human life for the sake of "justice." How do you feel about this? How does Judaism feel about this?

The evening begins at 5:30 p.m. with mincha followed by a dairy dinner. From 6 to 7:30 p.m., Biblical (Jewish and Christian) and post-Biblical teachings about murder and capital punishment will be the topic. Shavuot evening services at 7:30 p.m. will be followed by a desert reception at 8 p.m. From 8:20 to 9:30 p.m., the topic of capital punishment in America will be presented followed by participants addressing the evening's theme "The Death Penalty: Does Judaism Teach What I Believe?" A final hour of study of Zohar study on Yitro begins at 9:30 p.m.

While our Tikkun Leil Shavuot program begins at 5:30 p.m. and concludes at 10:30 p.m., please feel free to participate in whatever portion of the evening you like. But do come and join us to study Torah together and fulfill one of the most important commandments in Judaism, because each morning the Siddur reminds us that the study of Torah is a great commandment. (And the topic of study couldn't be more timely!)

Please RSVP to the Beth El Temple Office at 232-0556 so we know how many to plan for.

BAT MITZVAH
SHULAMIT JONINAH BRONNER

Shulamit Joninah Bronner, familiar to everyone as "Shula," will become a Bat Mitzvah at Beth El Temple on Shavuot, Sunday, May 27, 2012. In keeping with the event, she is working with Andrea Lieber on her derisha concerning the Ten Commandments.

Shula attends the Infinity Charter School in Harrisburg, where she is absorbed by language, arts, and science studies. During the summer, she enjoys Jewish esprit at Habonim Dror Camp Moshava in Maryland and expressing herself on stage at Camp Hill Theater Camp. The performing arts have been a passion of Shula's, and she has joined many dramatic productions at the Jewish Community Center and Gamut Theater.

Exuberant about life, Shula's voice constantly soars in song, and she takes vocal and music lessons. Her father also calls on her to assist his folklore and history research, accompanied him to an Association for Jewish Studies conferences, and she has helped with the production of the Freedom Seder at Penn State Harrisburg. Her mother has also called on her to help at the Silver Academy with her kindergarteners.

Shula's mitzvah project, which she is pursuing with her typical devotion, is to help Caitlin's Smiles, a non-profit organization that is dedicated to assisting children facing chronic or life-threatening illnesses. Founded in 2004 in memory of Caitlin Hornung, the non-profit organization in Harrisburg distributes arts and crafts kits (called "bags of smiles") to hospitals, giving kids an outlet for creativity. Caitlin's Smiles recognizes children as unique individuals and strives to heighten their feelings of self-worth and competency by providing them with opportunities to be creative and successful with a variety of creative art experiences. As a creative person, herself, and a civic volunteer, Shula has seen first-hand the beneficial impact that this program has had for ill children, and she will be setting up collection bins for donations of supplies at several locations:

Beth El Temple, Silver Academy, and the front porch of her home.

Shula is the daughter of Simon and Sally Jo Bronner and the sister of Eitan Bronner, and lives with her family in Susquehanna Township, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. She has also lived in the Netherlands, and she visited Israel with her parents. She is also the granddaughter of proud paternal grandparents Betty Peterfreund and Moshe Bronner, of Blessed memory, and maternal grandparents Leatrice Kahr and Larry Kahr, of Blessed memory.

A Meaningful Yom HaZikaron Morning Experience

By Rabbi Akiva Males

I recently had the privilege of attending a Yeshiva University-sponsored conference for pulpit rabbis in Newton, MA. Together with almost thirty of my colleagues, I had the good fortune of spending three days studying various Torah topics with YU's Rabbi Dr. J.J. Schacter. Our group also enjoyed an informative afternoon at Harvard University, where we were addressed by two of their distinguished professors.

The last day of our conference was Wednesday, April 25th. That date was also observed as Yom HaZikaron - on which we honor the memory of the many young men and women who gave their lives for the creation and ongoing security of the State of Israel - the eternal homeland of the Jewish people.

Our group marked this occasion in a manner I had not seen before. As soon as we finished our morning prayers, we divvied up the Mishnaic tractate of Bikurim, which deals with a farmer's obligation to bring his season's first fruits to be eaten in Jerusalem during Temple times. We then sat down for a short period of Torah study.

Before long, our group had collectively completed the study of Bikurim, and a special Kel Maleh memorial prayer was recited on behalf of all those who gave their lives in defense of Israel.

There is a well known passage in the Zohar (Judaism's fundamental work of mystical thought) which states: Yisrael, v'Oraisa, v'Kudsha B'rich Hu, Chad Hu / The Jewish people, the Torah, and the Holy One (G-d) are one.

Our commentators explain that it is through the study of Torah that the Jewish people and G-d have a point of meeting.

I found it so meaningful to engage in Torah study in the merit of Israel's fallen soldiers, and I hope to find a way for KI to embark on a similar project next year.
