11:00am Concert

Book Presentation & Signing to follow
At Reform Congregation Oheb Shalom

FREE! Event -- EVERYONE Welcome!!

Mama Doni performs the 'Get Cooking! Family Concert'. It features songs all about food and celebrations. Original songs include "Falafalful," "Challah Day," "Matzah Pizza," "Latke Man," and more that will have everyone dancing in the aisles, ready to Get Cooking! and celebrate. The show will bring the book to life with dancing, recipe cards, food samples and excerpts/activities from the book.

This initiative is an outgrowth of our Strategic Plan which seeks to dramatically expand the number of people actively engaged in communal Jewish life by pursuing what we have dubbed "The 4 'E's":

- Engage: actively foster a welcoming and inclusive community that makes participation in communal Jewish life compelling and accessible.
- Educate: promote education and lifelong learning to celebrate Judaism's rich heritage and contemporary meanings.
- Empathize: care for people in times of need locally and globally.
- Energize: reintroduce Federation & the JCC to the Jewish and broader communities to affirm our role.

The cost of this event is being underwritten by the Strategic Planning funds allocated from the families with children living at home, boomers and seniors advisory councils.

A stunning autobiographical one-man show by New York actor and playwright, Stephen Axelrod. The story of Axelrod's treadmill quest for identity that is relentlessly thwarted by a father intent on making him an extension of his own Queens blue-collar existence. Axelrod evokes a form of tragedy that emulates the rough poetry and human insights of Clifford Odets, Phillip Roth and Lenny Bruce.

"Axelrod injects humor, pathos, and an abundance of passion into his heart-rending tale."

When COMEDY Went to School

Sunday, October 13, 3:00 pm

Fox East Theatre, 4350 Perkiomen Avenue

Why are there so many Jewish comedians? When Comedy Went to School answers this question with an entertaining portrait of this country's greatest generation of comics the generation that includes the likes of Jerry Lewis, Sid Caesar, Jackie Mason, Mort Sahl and Jerry Stiller, all of whom make appearances in the film, telling jokes and telling their stories. The answer is also found in upstate New York's Catskill Mountains, aka the Borscht Belt, where Jewish immigrants transformed lush farmland into the 20th century's largest resort complex. Those Catskill hotels and bungalow colonies provided the setting for a remarkable group of young Jewish-American comedians to hone their craft and become worldwide legends. It was truly When Comedy Went to School.

"...a hilariously funny and delightfully nostalgic look at the era when stand up comics were the featured entertainment at top summer resorts in New York's Catskill Mountains." - Jennifer Merin, About.com Guide

Amin Jaafari is an Israeli Palestinian surgeon, fully assimilated into Tel Aviv society. He has a loving wife, an exemplary career, and many Jewish friends. But his picture-perfect life is turned upside down when a suicide bombing in a restaurant leaves nineteen dead, and the Israeli police inform him that his wife Sihem, who also died in the explosion, was responsible. Convinced of her innocence, Amin abandons the relative security of his adopted homeland and enters the Palestinian territories in pursuit of the truth. Once there, he finds himself in ever more dangerous places and situations. Determined, he presses on seeking answers to questions he never thought he would be asking.

The new musical SOUL DOCTOR tells the fascinating story of the beloved yet controversial father of popular Jewish music, Rabbi Shlomo Carlebach. After his childhood escape from Nazi Germany, the young Rabbi formed an unlikely friendship with legendary jazz singer Nina Simone who introduced him to soul and gospel music. With his meteoric rise as a "Rock Star Rabbi," he struggled to harmonize his traditional beliefs with the "free love" generation of the 1960s.
