

2017 Impact Report

OUR IMPACT

JEWISH FEDERATION OF OTTAWA

Discover how YOUR SUPPORT has made a difference in the lives of thousands.

This booklet provides an overview of the many programs and agencies the Jewish Federation of Ottawa's Annual Campaign funds each year. Explore how far, deep and wide each and every gift is distributed. Discover the extraordinary things your gift does for our Jewish community – and our people – whenever and wherever they need us.

Your gift to Federation's Annual Campaign helps feed the hungry, sustain seniors in need, support and counsel families in crisis, and empower people of all ages to participate in Jewish life.

The Power of Community

Dear friends,

As part of the Jewish Federation of Ottawa's strategic plan we committed to better explain the effects and power of a gift to the Annual Campaign. We are now happy to share Federation's inaugural Impact Report.

Our Impact Report is designed to explore how far, deep and wide each and every gift is distributed.

As you read through the report, take tremendous pride in the many ways your gift to Federation's Annual Campaign is positively impacting people. Federation's support for Jewish education and social services is fairly well-known and is often the reason why people give. Helping to feed hungry people resonates and is a motivator to give generously. Similarly, Federation's support for marquee programs, such as Birthright Israel and PJ library, are often heralded and inspirational.

Less trumpeted, but still requiring and worthy of support, are projects such as the Ottawa Jewish Archives, and the costs associated with maintaining our wonderful community campus. Less well understood are the countless ways Federation supports Israel and engages in advocacy on behalf of the Jewish people.

It is the combination of the higher profile organizations and programs Federation funds, along with the lesser known aspects, that reveal the full impact your gift has to the Annual Campaign. Take pride in how your generosity is making a difference.

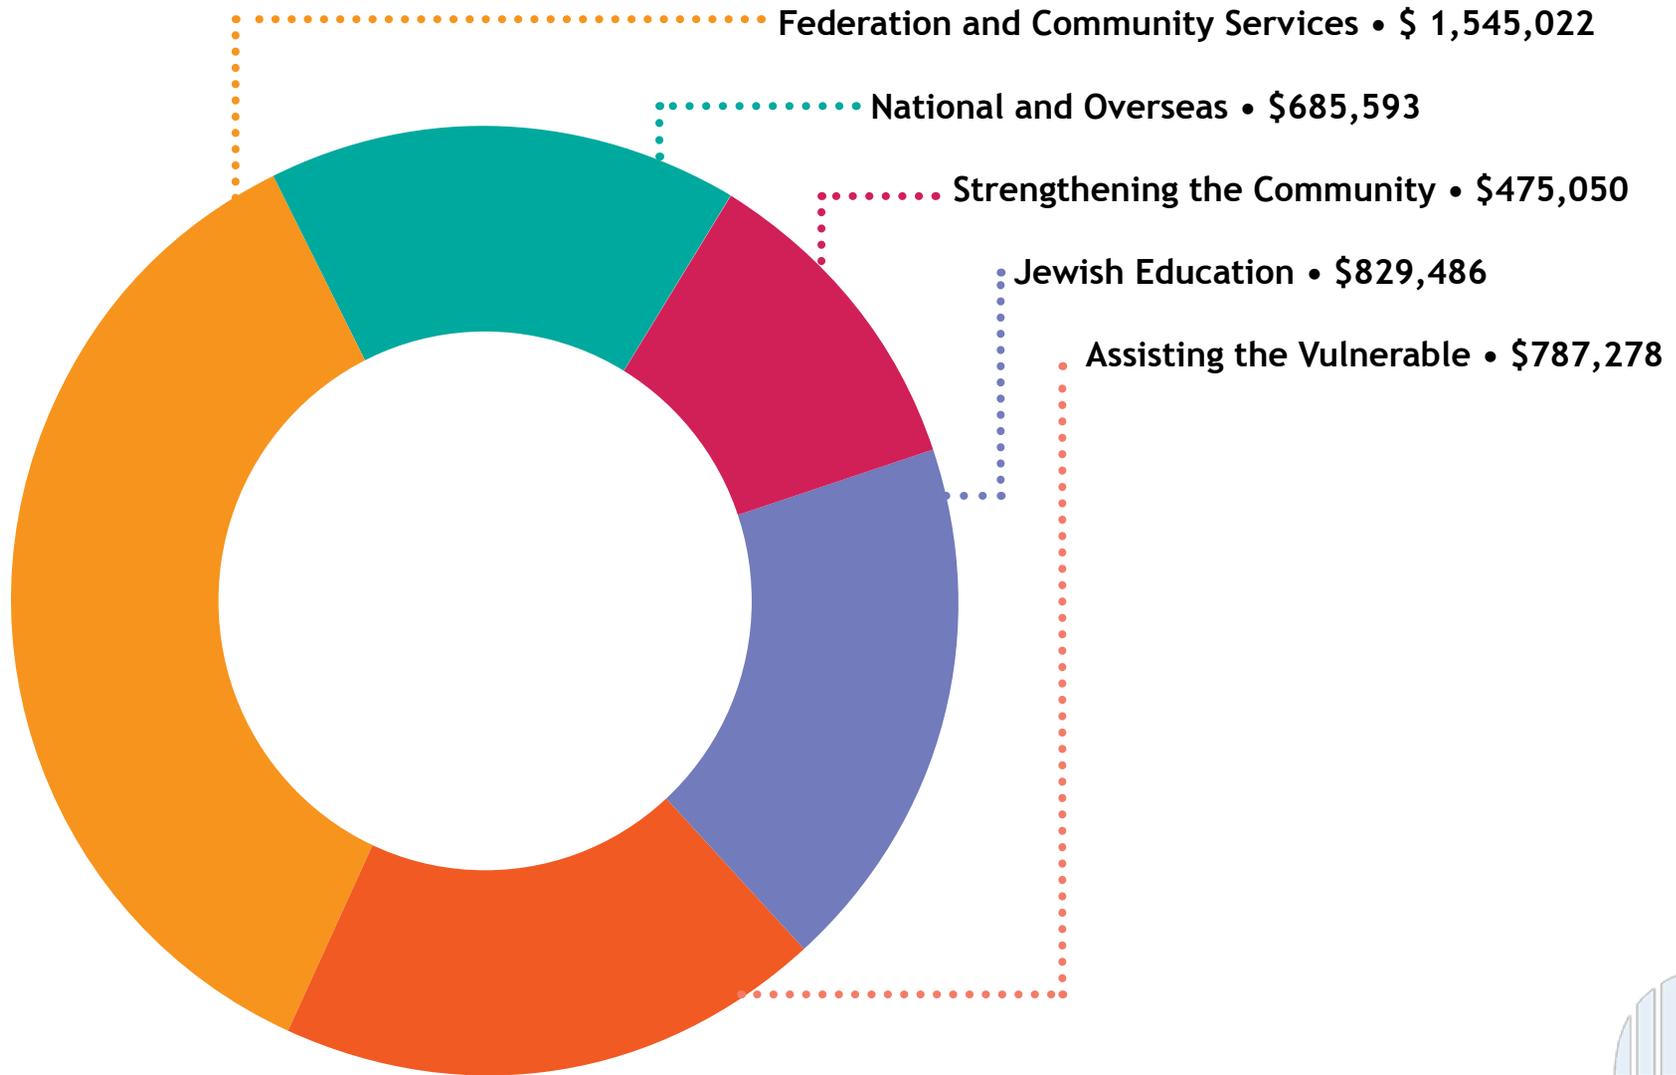

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Caring for the Vulnerable

Caring for the Vulnerable

Judaism is based on the foundation of creating community. As we create community, all members must be served based on their needs. Caring for the vulnerable is a core value that we must maintain in order to keep our community whole.

Seniors

“Show deference to the elderly.” ~ Leviticus 19:32

Federation funding helps meet the needs of seniors who can no longer live independently by supporting initiatives, such as: a feeding program that gave 30 Bess and Moe Greenberg Family Hillel Lodge residents personal one-to-one assistance in eating; nursing rehabilitation that provided more than 20 residents with physical therapy to help improve mobility; and kosher meals for the 121 Lodge residents.

Federation funding helps decrease social isolation among seniors, and provides access to resources and services through Jewish Family Services, such as: social programs for 68 seniors; Kosher Meals on Wheels home food delivery for 65 seniors; personal case managers for holistic care oversight for 65 seniors; direct support for 103 area Holocaust survivors; and programs that provided 200 hours of friendly engagements to decrease social isolation and increase quality of life.

Providing Basic Needs

“There shall be no needy among you.”
~ Deuteronomy 15:4

Federation dollars helped 90 families receive direct monthly financial support through Jewish Family Services to enable them to pay their rent, hydro, and more. Approximately 135 needy families enjoyed fresh fruits and vegetables and over 80 families used Ottawa’s Kosher Food Bank to meet their family’s basic food needs. Special one-time additional funding was provided to over 100 needy families during Passover, Rosh Hashanah and Chanukah to help them take part in celebrating Jewish life.

Rachel is a single mother with a two-year-old child. She is on Ontario Works and is living in subsidized housing. She does not have extended family to help her with the challenges of parenting. Jewish Family Services (JFS) has been helping Rachel access support and providing her with monthly financial assistance. When she can, Rachel volunteers at JFS’s Miriam’s Well program to help break some of her isolation. Most recently, JFS was able to match Rachel with a volunteer who is able to meet with her and provide her with parenting support.

Special Needs

“Each of us is created ‘B’tzelem Elo-him,’ in the image of G-d.” ~ Genesis 1:27

Federation supports Tamir’s Judaic programming for approximately 45 community members with special needs through innovative programs such as a choir and Shabbat experiences. Special holiday events for individuals with special needs and their family members during the year can attract over 200 participants. Through Federation support to Tamir, seven young people with special needs received a summer camp experience. Adults with special needs who face significant health challenges received over 300 hours of residential support to be able to live independently, not in group homes, in the community. Federation support helped ensure that 40 professional staff received Judaic training to better support those with special needs to live Jewish lives.

Federation funding helped support 44 children with special needs enjoy home visits by trained teenage volunteers as part of the Jewish Youth Library.

Furthermore, funding helped run “Sibshops” – Jewish Youth Library workshops to engage siblings and their families of children with special needs; brothers and sisters of children with special needs learned that they are not alone, received peer support and have increased feelings of inclusion.

Every person plays their part during the weekly Shabbat dinner at Tamir: Shirley pours the grape juice; Lee keeps the crowd busy as we all set the table, and Sherry leads the prayers. Through faith and the love of Judaism, the gang exemplifies that disability is not inability. The Supported Independent Living (SIL) participants lead the dinner to showcase their skills in the Shabbat rituals and prayers, using the Tamir Shabbat Guide, and to connect with their peers. The group takes pride in sharing laughter, conversations and songs, as well as the Shabbat rituals and prayers.

Strengthening Jewish Life and Learning

Federation funds a variety of exciting and interesting programs and initiatives that expand involvement and engagement in Jewish and learning for all ages. Entertaining and educational programs nurture Jewish values and practices that sustain and enrich Jewish culture, fuel Jewish identity, and help guarantee that our traditions are passed on from generation to generation.

Educating Our Children Jewishly

The foundation of our community lies with the next generation. As we see in the traditional Shema prayer, “Veshinantam Levanecha - You should teach these words to your children.” Our local Jewish day and supplementary schools ensure our children receive a quality Jewish education that fits their needs. The diverse selection allows each family to find the right fit for their child.

Federation invests in Jewish education. Jewish day schools educate 307 children and supplemental schools educate 394 children in our community.

Day Schools:

- Ottawa Jewish Community School
- Torah Day School
- Ottawa Torah Institute and Machon Sarah

Supplementary Schools:

- Chabad Hebrew School
- Or Hanesamah - Machaneh Shabbat
- Ottawa Talmud Torah
- Ottawa Modern Jewish School
- Temple Israel Religious School
- Torah High

Access to Jewish Life

Jewish life is like a highway. There are many ways to access the highway – on-ramps – at various points that fit best for the traveler. Jewish life is similar. There are many access points so that individuals can create their own meaningful Jewish journey. Federation invests in high quality “on-ramps” in our community that serve as access points to Jewish life in Ottawa.

There is no better access point into Jewish life than PJ Library. Every month, 550 children receive a book with a Jewish theme they can call their own. This brings Jewish values, culture and identity into the home and enhances the relationship that PJ families have with the Jewish community through special events and activities.

The Baker family has chosen to take advantage of both day and supplemental options available in our community. Aidan is in Grade 5 at the Ottawa Jewish Community School along with his sister Zoe, in Grade 1. Children and parents love the full-day immersive Jewish educational experience offered at our community school. For Max, the eldest Baker child, a fun weekly experience at Chabad Hebrew School on Sundays is the perfect option. Like the Bakers, families are able to find the best fit for their unique needs and connect Jewishly in the most meaningful way.

My children

enjoy the PJ Library books and they are in our reading pile rotation. The books about the holidays are especially popular as they allow for discussion around the traditions and how we can celebrate.”
- Naomi H.

Jewish Campus Life Stats:

Hillel Ottawa

- 1,779 Individual meals served
- 1,098 Unique Jewish education touch-points
- 275 Individual leadership development opportunities
- 1,917 Israel culture and advocacy experiences

Chabad Student Network

- Over 2,000 Individual Shabbat and holiday meals served
- Over 400 Holiday provisions supplied

Federation invests in a central hub for our community to access many components of Jewish life through the Soloway Jewish Community Centre. From 80 children learning about Jewish holidays in Ganon, to facilitating over 2,700 individuals coming together for community events each year, such as over 800 people attending Yom Ha'Atzmaut celebrations.

When families need assistance in accessing Jewish life, Federation helps by funding subsidies for 68 kids at local day and overnight camps so that every child has the opportunity to benefit from Jewish summer activities.

Federation invests in the celebration of Jewish culture and tradition. Over 150 community members gathered to celebrate Sephardi traditions such as Mimouna after Passover at our community centre, organized by the Sephardi Association. Through AJA 50+, over 500 adults (50+) enjoy a wide range of activities throughout the year that meet the needs of this demographic.

Adult Jewish education is another important aspect of Jewish life. Federation supports a wide range of programs that helped 1,250 community members expand their knowledge through Jewish thought and text.

The Next Generation

Federation has a significant impact on young adults leaving home to attend university and young professionals starting out in the “real world” as independent members of the community. At this important juncture, Federation plays an important role in helping young adults develop meaningful connections to the Jewish community.

Shabbat dinners, leadership development, bagel lunches, Jewish educational programs, holiday celebrations, paid internships, and chicken soup along with an uplifting message of support delivered to your door when you are under the weather are all part of creating a Jewish home away from home for students on campus. Federation funding helped over 450 individuals create Jewish campus Life. Funding helped ensure that Jewish students feel welcome and safe throughout their academic careers.

For individuals starting out in the professional world, finding and accessing community can be difficult. Federation investment in community members age 20-40 not only helped bring over 400 people together, but created a strong foundation of leaders and contributors to community growth.

“Hillel Ottawa’s greatest strength is bringing our Jewish student community together, and creating a sense of family that makes students proud of their heritage.” - Seth K.

Culture, Heritage, Memory

Taking time to reflect on our culture, our rich heritage, and important memories are paramount in connecting with our community.

Federation helps educate our community and the broader city of Ottawa on the importance of “never again” through programs during Holocaust Education Month and Holocaust Remembrance Day. Investment in Holocaust education ensured that thousands of youth and adults alike will carry on the memories of our people.

Jewish culture and heritage are important to our community. That is why Federation helps with initiatives that highlight and celebrate Jewish contributions to Canada during Canada150 and memorializes the events surrounding Sephardi refugees from Arab lands.

Federation maintains the Ottawa Jewish Archives in order to gather, record and preserve the collective memory of the Jewish community in Ottawa and make historical records accessible to all for their use, well-being and enjoyment. In 2017, to mark Canada’s 150 birthday, the Archives is mounting a special exhibit “Facing Forward” featuring 25 portraits from the Ottawa Jewish Bulletin photograph collection to highlight the contributions made by notable Jewish Ottawans to Canada’s public service and political landscape.

Empowering Local Organizations

Federation builds capacity in the community by providing training for community volunteers to equip them to be better board members and leaders in the community. Over 50 lay leaders and volunteers representing more than 15 different organizations benefited from Federation sessions to increase their knowledge of financial and governance requirements for non-profit organizations.

Federation convened joint-professional development for Jewish day and supplementary schools that included: two sessions for 20 teachers with resources about Israel and information on ways to incorporate free technology into the classroom; a special session with an Israel education expert from the iCenter for over 20 educators.

Federation’s Fund for Innovative Capacity Building helps inject extra funds for agencies’ special projects. In addition to Federation’s annual grants, the aim of this fund is to boost specific foundation-building projects undertaken by agencies with grants of up to $15,000. The fund provides the seed money for innovative, creative projects that strengthen and improve an agency’s programs and services through a one-time cash injection.

One of the nice things about being retired is that it gives me the time to pursue other interests. One of those is education, and the SJCC’s Melton program has exposed me to many aspects of Jewish life, ethics, and history that I was not aware of. Rabbi Garten is an excellent teacher who challenges us and stretches our knowledge. I’ve made some new acquaintances, and am looking forward to continuing next year. AJA 50+ has allowed me to participate in an interesting mix of both Jewish-themed and other programs. Of course events such as Yom Ha’Atzmaut and the Chanukah fair allow us to celebrate our history and culture at a community level.” - Mike A.

Innovation Fund Facts

Federation funds invested $40,491 this past year for initiatives such as smart boards for Tamir, a Blended Learning Tech lab for OTI, CJE exhibit material celebrating Jewish contributions to Canada, and much more!

Working together with community agencies, Federation has created an online Volunteer Centre to match individuals with specific skills and strengths to agencies with particular needs. The Volunteer Centre works with agencies to develop volunteer job descriptions and, over time, supports agencies by assisting in the training of volunteers and developing leadership skills.

Federation is Inclusive

Federation's impact goes beyond the allocations process. Federation has a place for everyone and we strive to be inclusive and provide opportunities for all to be a part of the Ottawa Jewish community. This can be seen through efforts, such as:

Mitzvah Day outreach succeeded in engaging the Orleans community and the Sephardic Community, which participated in Mitzvah Day for the first time; and new members to sit on the Mitzvah Day Committee.

Advertising through the e-newsletter, Ottawa Jewish Bulletin and social media for committees seeking new committee members to ensure that we have a wider and more fulsome representation from all parts of our community.

Transportation to events as needed. This includes seeking volunteer drivers through the Volunteer Centre.

Advertising in the Volunteer Centre to encourage more and varied volunteers, resulting in more than 40 people joining our volunteer ranks.

Federation hosted a workshop with expert in relational Judaism, Dr. Ron Wolfson. Close to 100 people representing all ages and more than 15 community organizations learned how to bring meaning, purpose and belonging to Jewish communities along with strategies to foster an open, inclusive community for all.

Support & Connection to Israel

The JWRP trip to Israel has been a life-changing experience. I now feel closer to Israel and have a better understanding of its significance to the Jewish people. The trip gave me the opportunity to establish long-lasting friendships with other moms in the Ottawa Jewish community.”

- Marycarmen E.

Support & Connection to Israel

Our people have a connection to the land of Israel. Everyone has their own way to celebrate this bond. Federation invests in areas that support the land and strengthens our connection to it.

Birthright Israel

Last year, Federation supported a once-in-a-lifetime trip to Israel for 115 young adults, ages 18 to 26, so that they could create a meaningful connection to our Jewish homeland. Pre- and post-programming and other follow-up efforts ensure that the experience is long-lasting and benefits our local community.

Jewish Women’s Renaissance Project (JWRP)

Federation provided 36 mothers with a transformative experience in Israel that united them with their Jewish roots and each other. They returned with renewed purpose to lead their families and community in Jewish life.

P2G

Federation invests in our Israeli partner region so that it may overcome challenges and flourish. Federation supports initiatives such as the Gesher Chai Living Bridge program so that school children in the region can connect with children here in Ottawa. A new music room in the school, a hydrotherapy centre, and a drop-in tennis program for at-risk youth are examples of our community’s partnership bringing much needed assistance to the region.

Shinshinim

Integrating Israel into our schools, partner agencies, and our community as a whole is important to strengthening our relationship with Israel.

Federation invests in the Shinshinim program that brings young Israelis to Ottawa for the year so that they may infuse Israeli life, culture, and celebration into everything our community does. The Shinshinim have engaged with synagogues, Jewish schools, participated in major events, and contributed to many organizations, bringing the life and light of Israel to an array of community experiences.

Israel Awareness and Advocacy

Our university campuses promote exploring issues and new ideas. Detractors can take advantage of these opportunities for positive dialogue and education on the topic of Israel in order to push their own agenda that alienates, targets, and can even make students feel unsafe. Federation invests in grassroots efforts such as Hillel Ottawa’s Israel Awareness Committee (IAC) to combat the negative rhetoric on campus. For example, the IAC’s annual Israeli Wine and Canadian Cheese attracts almost 200 students to celebrate and learn about the shared values of Canada and Israel.

Federation invests in local and national efforts through the Centre for Israel and Jewish Affairs (CIJA) to stand up for Israel in the political and social realms. As part of a national effort, CIJA supports lobbying efforts, campus initiatives, and other efforts to ensure that the shared values between Canada and Israel are protected and celebrated.

Advancing Communal Interests

Advancing Communal Interests

Federation advocates for the Jewish community, and supports Israel and Jewish communities around the globe. We allocate funds effectively - Federation uses our cross-communal perspective, resources and financial leverage to amplify the impact of donations we receive. As a steward of charitable donations, Federation commits to operating efficiently. We operate transparently using metrics and reporting to ensure the most effective and strategic allocation of donations we receive, while balancing the most pressing present and future needs of our community.

Strengthening Local Interests

Cultivating young leadership within our community is an important aspect of ensuring the success of our community for years to come. Federation helps by funding initiatives such as the Young Leadership Trip to Israel that sent 15 leaders nominated by local agencies to participate in this unique experience.

Federation supports the community kosher supervision agency, the Ottawa Vaad HaKashrut (OVH). The OVH works with local organizations and vendors to enable and enhance the availability of kosher food and services within our community.

The Bulletin is celebrating its 80th year this fall and the entire historical collection is now available online. It can be accessed through the archives site: www.archive.org/details/ottawajewisharchives. In another sign of the paper's growth, the online version of the paper (ottawajewishbulletin.com) had more than 85,000 views in the last 12 months, while the paper has almost 7,000 followers on social media, including Facebook (@ottawajewishbulletin) and Twitter (@JBulletin)

Supporting Jewish Communities in Canada and around the World

We are part of a larger Jewish Canadian experience – connected to all Jews across our country and the world. Federation ensures our community is part of our national responsibility to address the needs of the Canadian Jewish people through Jewish Federation of Canada-United Israel Appeal. Our partnership works to strengthen Jewish life and raise funds for programs and services in Canada, Israel, and overseas.

Federation funding helps support national services that strengthen Canadian Jewry through programs, such as Birthright Israel, March of the Living, campus and leadership development conferences, international representation, support for small regional communities, and so much more. Federation funding also supports relevant and periodic research into demographics, based on the census, or interest areas, such as boomers and millennials, to better understand our national needs. For example, approximately 50 people attended a presentation on boomer demographics.

It was so meaningful to get know other leaders in my community [on Federation's Young Leadership trip to Israel] at a deeper level as we explored challenges unique to our community within the context of broader global issues. The ties were strengthened between us, and with our Israeli counterparts, as we learned about their creative and innovative approaches to social problems. It's one thing to read about what our funds and support do, but it's another thing to see the programs in actions and meet the leaders face to face.” - Karli S.

Your support for Federation has an impact internationally through unique, innovative programs administered by our overseas partners, American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee (JDC) and Jewish Agency for Israel (JAFI). An example of this can be seen in our partnership region in Israel.

In Israel, Federation funding promotes education and capacity-building projects in our partner region, Etzbah HaGalil in the northern Galilee. Among the many projects supported by Federation are the 104 scholarships for students to enable them to pursue their studies at Tel Hai College in the North, and the hydro-therapy pool in the region of Mevo'ot HaHermon, which assists those with special needs.

Advocating for the Jewish Community

Federation provides crucial funding to the Centre for Israel and Jewish Affairs (CIJA), the advocacy agent of Canada's Jewish Federations, to improve the quality of Jewish life in Canada by advancing the public policy interests of Canada's organized Jewish community. By strategically engaging government, media, and leaders throughout civil society, CIJA fights antisemitism and hatred in all its forms, builds support for the people of Israel, and advocates for policies to advance social justice and human rights for the benefit of our community and all Canadians. Working hand-in-hand, Federation and CIJA respond to advocacy challenges affecting local Jewry, and host community consultations and political roundtables.

Experiential workshops engaged 5,000 Jewish and non-Jewish students in public schools where students learned about Jewish holidays, such as Passover, and made Matzah from scratch.

CIJA Facts:

- Hosted more than 150 Canadians - including political, media, student, and academic officials - on fact-finding missions to Israel.
- Provided advocacy training to 1,000 Jewish and pro-Israel activists across Canada.
- Distributed more than 30,000 pro-Israel handouts and products to Canadian campuses.
- In partnership with Hillels, CIJA helped pro-Israel students defeat boycott-divestment-sanctions campaigns on multiple campuses, including McGill, Waterloo, U of T, and (in early 2017) at UBC.
