

Rajesh Gill served four years in the United States Army. In 2014 he graduated from Southern New Hampshire University with bachelor's degree in psychology with a concentration in mental health. In 2020 he graduated from the University of Texas at El Paso with a master's degree in social work. He completed a one-year internship at Dismas Charities. He completed a one-year internship at El Paso Veterans Affairs.

Rajesh worked for the city of El Paso contact tracing for city of El Paso during contact tracing, he also worked with the U.S Census. He worked at El Paso Behavioral Health as manager of the military unit providing individual, group and family therapy. At Cuidado Casero Home Health and help provide resources for patients and their family members.

In 2020 he opened a non-profit, El Paso Empowerment Center, which provides mental health support for El Pasoans. Facilitates grief support group, mindfulness groups, and SMART Recovery groups. This non-profit also provides a clothing closet and a food pantry.

Rajesh's passion is working with veterans and service members. He has been volunteering with the National Alliance on Mental Illness since 2015. He teaches Family to Family classes and Homefront classes which provide education for family members of veterans and service members providing them with information about what mental health conditions their loved ones may be suffering and how to help their veteran and/or service member.