

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting JewishRichmond.org. The purpose of our website is to provide information and services to individuals. Your privacy is important to us and we are committed to protecting it and making you aware of our online practices regarding the privacy of your information. We will not sell, share, or trade our donors' names or personal information with any unaffiliated entity.

Information about Donors and Visitors

Our website does not automatically collect any individually identifiable information, such as email addresses, from visitors.

We collect personal information only when you provide it while interacting with the site. On this site, you can register for events, subscribe to digital newsletters, read the latest issue of our monthly newspaper, The Reflector, or donate to the Federation. In doing so, you may be asked to provide personally identifiable information such as your name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, credit card information, or information about your interests and activities.

If your personal information changes and you wish to update it (such as your address), or if you wish to delete your information, you can make changes by contacting the Federation via email, phone, or mail. Contact information is below.

We also may collect information that is not personally identifiable, such as the type of browser you are using (e.g., Chrome, Internet Explorer), the type of operating system you are using (e.g., Windows or Mac OS), and the domain name of your Internet service provider (e.g., Xfinity, Fios).

How Information Is Used

Jewish Community Federation of Richmond may use the information you give us to provide services to you, at your request. We may use it to communicate through periodic messages regarding services, events, and other information and notices you may find interesting or useful. We may use it to confirm donations, registrations, or other actions you take on our site, and for related customer service needs.

We do not sell, rent, swap or otherwise share our mailing lists with unaffiliated or for profit organizations. Jewish Community Federation of Richmond will not disseminate any personal information you provide to any third party.

We may use the information that is not personally identifiable to analyze the design and functioning of our site to make site improvements. We may use such information in the aggregate to analyze site usage.

We will disclose personally identifiable information when required to do so by law.

Changes to this Policy

Please note that this privacy policy is subject to revisions. Return to this page at any time to see the most current policy.

Website Security

Jewish Community Federation of Richmond uses appropriate procedures to ensure your personal information's security and protect it from unauthorized access. In particular, when we ask you to enter credit card information, we use the top industry standard security protection, including encryption, SSL transmission connection, and a secure server for information storage. Once your credit card has been processed, your credit card information is not stored on our servers. These procedures and protections are updated and tested regularly.
