Federation, PJ Library help make connections

Monmouth and Greater Middlesex county-area families raising Jewish children will now have more opportunities to connect with each other by participating in Jewish life, thanks to a new program reimbursing them up to $100 to create and share their own Jewish-inspired experiences with neighbors, family, and friends — no strings attached. The Get Together program is available to members of PJ Library and PJ Our Way, the Harold Grinspoon Foundation (HGF) programs that the Jewish Federation in the Heart of New Jersey brings to this community. With the Federation's support, PJ Library and PJ Our Way send free Jewish books and music CDs each month to more than 3,000 kids in Monmouth and Middlesex counties. Applications for the Get Together program are now being accepted through Tuesday, April 30. PJ Library and PJ Our Way families currently living in Monmouth and Greater Middlesex counties may apply for as many as three Get Together grants for events to take place before Tuesday, April 30. Applications and details are online at pjlibrary.org/GetTogether2018.
