The festival's mission is to showcase Israel's emergence as a powerhouse in the foreign film industry by spotlighting outstanding new films created by Israeli and/or Jewish filmmakers. These films celebrate the cultural experience of being Jewish as well as universal topics that appeal to the broader community.

"We are proud to celebrate the 10th Anniversary of the prestigious Axelrod Performing Arts Center's annual Israel Jewish Film Festival. All the films are award winning, internationally acclaimed, insightful, informative and above all entertaining!" said Toby Shylit Mack, film festival chair.

Opening the festival is The Unorthodox, a lively crowd-pleasing drama. A disenfranchised Sephardic father, Yaakov Cohen, tired of being pushed around, launches an improvised campaign to establish influence in 1980s Israeli society. Based on actual events, Eliran Malka's accomplished feature debut is animated with suspense and humor, relating a tale of underdog activism and dirty politics, which reshaped Israel and continues to reverberate today. Opening night is Sunday, July 28 at 7 PM with a post-film dessert reception to follow.

Before the winners are announced, his four closest friends, who have known him for the past 50 years, decide to keep him "alive" until the announcement to give him the opportunity to achieve the one thing he wanted more than anything else and, maybe, a purpose to his life and death endearing portrait of friendship in the twilight years. intermission during which an Israeli dinner will be served.

Shoelaces tells the story of a complicated relationship between an aging father and his special-needs son, whom he abandoned while he was still a young boy. Through the film's portrayal of a relationship full of love, rejection and co-dependency, it sheds light on the importance of human life, human connection and questions if life has meaning without either one of them. The Other Story, set in Jerusalem, explores an intricate web of desperate parents, rebellious children, and spouses locked in conflict. Infamously libertine persona for that of a devoted Hasid. Shlomo isn't buying Shacar's reformation and neither is Yonatan's ex-wife, with whom Yonatan grudgingly joins forces in an increasingly ruthless campaign to defame Anati's fiancé. Neshet masterfully weaves The Other Story's many threads so that we never lose track of the narrative, even as his complex characters alter their tactics, change alliances, and search their souls for the strength to protect their children — and the wisdom to know when to let go!

In You Only Die Twice, Yair Lev, an Israeli documentary filmmaker becomes a detective and sets out on a personal and historical journey to uncover the true identity behind the man who stole his grandfather's identity and later on became the president of a Jewish community in Austria. Who was this man who took another man's identity? Why and how did he do it? What dark past did he want to conceal? Was he a Nazi? A Kapo? This documentary detective thriller is a journey into the 20th century heart of darkness, which eventually reveals a drama of survival, collaboration with the enemy and finally, at the end of the night, an extraordinary love story.

Redemption revolves around Menachem, a former front-man for a rock band, is now religious, and a father to a six-year-old. When his daughter is diagnosed with cancer, he must find a creative solution to fund the expensive treatments. He reunites his band for one last tour. The journey to save his daughter exposes old wounds and allows him to reconnect with his secular past. Menachem understands that only a new connection to his past and to his music can pave the road to his own redemption.

A rare, multi-camera shoot from the play's original run was recently unearthed (literally, from a safe) and assembled into a new but absolutely riveting motion picture.

When finally, her world is shattered, she must pull herself together to fight, in her own way, for work and a sense of self-worth.
