Building a Jewish Future for New Hampshire

www.jewishnh.org

Year in Review

As the Jewish Federation of New Hampshire enters a period of transition, with new leadership ahead, a review of the past year indicates that the organization continues to meet vital needs within the New Hampshire Jewish community while serving as a bridge, connecting our statewide Jewish community with world Jewry.

Helping Jews In Need

A major function for any organized Jewish community from the days of the Bible to today is to focus upon Jews in need. Mel Spierer has been the social worker for the Federation for over 15 years. He reports that this year, he has provided assistance to approximately 40 Jewish individuals and families from throughout the state. This number has grown year to year, possibly due to the economy and increased need, but likely also due to the increased visibility of the Federation throughout the state. Spierer indicates that the needs of our community members have grown more complex, requiring sophisticated assessment and referral services meant to promote well-being. Assistance provided ranges from food to access to health care and linkage with other specialized professionals and programs.

Often the Federation collaborates with temples in providing assistance. The Temple Taxi, launched in collaboration with Temple Israel and Temple Adath Yeshurun in Manchester, was less successful. While community members have liked that the service was made available, there have been few riders.

Building a Connected Community

The Federation has continued and expanded efforts to communicate with the Jewish community through multiple channels including the Jewish Reporter monthly newspaper, synagogue newsletters, the Federation web page (www.jewishnh.org), Facebook, Twitter, E-News, LinkedIn, presentations at temple boards, and any way that we can get our message out. The web page remains dynamic, not just sharing who we are, but highlighting upcoming events and programs and maintaining a community calendar for the statewide Jewish community. An active Reporter Committee is dedicated to improving the quality of our newspaper. Fran Berman continues as editor of The Reporter.

Collaboration and Support for Temples

In the past year, over $50,000 in direct support was given to temples in New Hampshire, primarily through Hebrew school funding, the Campaign for Jewish Needs matching grant incentives, and mini grants. This year mini grants were went to multiple temples, including Temple Beth Abraham, Congregation Ahavas Achim, The Upper Valley Jewish Community, Temple B'Nai Israel, and Temple Beth Jacob. In addition, a grant was given to the Board of Rabbis for the collaborative AJ Levine program.

Cultural and Community Programming

This past April, the New Hampshire Jewish Film Festival (NHJFF), in its fifth year, enjoyed its most successful season yet. Under the leadership of Linda Gerson and Pat Kalik with support of a committee of over 20, NHJFF presented a program that included showings in Manchester, Merrimack, Concord, Keene, Hanover, and for the first time, Portsmouth. More than 1,200 people attended the films. Plans are already under way to prepare for the 2014 season.

In addition to the NHJFF, several other cultural and community programs took place in multiple locations. This was the first year for a collaboration with the Boston Jewish Music Festival (BJMF). Two BJMF performances took place in New Hampshire, at Temple Beth Abraham in Nashua, and at Temple Israel, Portsmouth, in collaboration with the two temples and the Greater Seacoast UJA. Another musical highlight was the Coffee House program featuring local Jewish musicians. Two Coffee House Nights were held at the Bridge Café. The Jewish Professional Network (JPN) continues to thrive, with an expanded committee and new attendees. Speakers included Lew Feldstein, Joe Reilly, Art Solomon, and Howard Brodsky.

Two Holocaust-related programs were presented: the Kristallnacht observance, which included a walk from the Federation to Temple Israel, Manchester, and the Auschwitz Museum exhibit and opening, presented in collaboration with Rep. John Cebrowski and Rep. Cindy Rosenwald from the State of New Hampshire House of Representatives. The program and exhibit took place at the State Library, adjacent to the State Capitol building.

Anti-Semitism in New Hampshire

Sadly, every year the Federation must respond to anti-Semitism in our communities. Last year saw the successful effort to rename Jew Pond. This year, the Federation worked with the Anti-Defamation League to facilitate a peer education program at John Starks High School designed to train peer leaders in battling discrimination and intolerance. The Federation, through its Community Relations Council Director, Ari Alexenberg, responded in print to several newspaper articles that were anti-Semitic in nature. The Federation also was active in reaching out to New Hampshire political party leadership when candidates with documented anti-Semitic writings were invited to speak in our state.

Children and Families

The Federation Preschool and the PJ Library program continue to serve families with young children. Kindergarten returned to the Federation building in Manchester in 2011-2012, grew during the current year, and is expanding again for 2013-2014. Overall, the Preschool maintains a healthy enrollment and a reputation for quality while facing the challenge that many families with young Jewish children now live in Bedford or elsewhere outside the traditional North End of Manchester.

Israel and World Jewry

The Jewish Federation of New Hampshire is part of a North American network of over 150 federations. Our national organization, Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA), takes a leadership role in issues facing world Jewry. In addition to helping Jews in need around the world, JFNA partners JAFI, JDC, and World ORT fund or operate programs in Israel dedicated to serving the most needy. Federation was also active within Israel during discussions of "Who Is a Jew" and in working with Natan Sharansky, who is seeking a way to support egalitarian Jewish observance in Israel at the Western Wall for women. Our efforts to inform the community about these issues have been met with criticism by some community members.

Unfortunately, the past year remained a challenging one for Israel in terms of safety and security. The Federation Director and our JCRC Director had opportunities to meet with members of our state's Congressional delegation to thank them for their efforts to support Israel. In addition, a rally was held last fall to support Israel during a time of crisis due to ongoing missile attacks from Gaza.

Closer to home, our shlicha, Inbar Keren, worked diligently throughout the state with a primary focus of bringing Israel to our Jewish community. She implemented a successful Tu B'shevat program that included multiple seders at area temples and raised money for trees, which were later planted in our Sister City of Hof Hacarmel. Inbar also put together a wonderful Israel Independence Day program, bringing in community members from throughout New Hampshire.

Committed Board and Volunteers

This year in review highlights only some of the many activities of the past year. One feature in common with all of these activities is that they require a significant volunteer component to be successful. Each year, hundreds of people volunteer in some way with the Federation. Each Board member also contributes strongly. Each JFNH Board member is required to serve on a committee in addition to their board service. These volunteer efforts have enabled the Federation to accomplish a great deal with a fairly limited core staff consisting of a director, office manager, and part-time accountant and office support staff with assistance from our shlicha.

A Challenge for Campaign and Diversifying Income

The Federation is grateful to the many donors and volunteers who supported the Annual Campaign for Jewish Needs. The Campaign had a wonderful kick-off at the new Labelle Winery featuring mentalist Sidney Freedman. The fact cannot be avoided that the campaign continues to decline as larger donors continue to depart our community. We also face the challenge that younger people are not moving here in large numbers, and many of our children find their futures lie beyond New Hampshire. Our Federation is in no way unique in these challenges. We have responded by diversifying income and decreasing spending. The Federation remains fiscally sound, with an endowment that is three times larger than our annual spending. The Federation has opened an income stream by utilizing earnings from the Foundation while leaving the corpus intact. Additional funds have become available through a successful corporate fundraising initiative and the collection of program fees for our events.

A Look Toward the Future

It has been a privilege to lead this organization, which strives to support and maintain Jewish life. As Dan Cohen prepares to assume the Presidency of the Federation and an interim director is being sought, the Federation plans to embark upon a strategic planning process. We believe that the organization remains in strong hands with the current and incoming Board. As with all organizations, there will be changes, challenges, and opportunities. May we go from strength to strength.

2013/5773 Shem Tov Award Recipients

The Shem Tov (good name) awards were created by the Jewish Federation of New Hampshire to recognize volunteers from organizations across New Hampshire who have provided outstanding service to the Jewish community. The recipients below were nominated by their respective organizations.

Barbara Bailey - Congregation Betenu

In addition to supporting Congregation Betenu in all activities, Barbara is passionate about helping children. In her career as an Occupational Therapist, Barbara has worked primarily with children, currently with the Hudson Public Schools.

Barbara can always count on her family for support in her synagogue endeavors. She teams up with Elaine Schwartz on the education committee and as a volunteer in the religious school. Barbara has co-chaired the Tu B'shevat Seder at Congregation Betenu for more than 20 years. She is instrumental in organizing, sorting, schlepping, and selling at the congregation's fall yard sale, and she is always available when the congregation or a member needs a helping hand

Barbara Bailey

Sheldon "Bud" Baron - Temple Adath Yeshurun

Natalie and Bud moved to Manchester in 1963. Shortly after, they joined Temple Israel, and within the first year Bud was elected to the Board of Directors. He was a member of the Board for 10 years, during which time he was the recording treasurer, budget chairman (the total budget was $39,000), and president. He also served on the Jewish Community Center Board for several years until its dissolution.

In 1977, after a merger attempt, Natalie and Bud joined Temple Adath Yeshurun, where he became a member of the Board in the first year and served for 15 years straight until term limit rules kicked in. At various times after his first stint, Bud served another 6 or 7 terms. For the past 32 years continuously, Bud has had a lot of enjoyment serving on both the TAY Brotherhood Board and the Ritual Committee.

In addition to the above, Bud presently serves on the Auction Committee and the steering committee of Seniors Forever Young. In the past year, Bud, sat on the Federation Board and the Federation Budget and Allocations committee. In his other life, for 19 years, Bud was a member of the Board and Treasurer of the Northern New England Association of Personnel Consultants. When you tie the whole package together, Bud says, "It was gratifying."

Sheldon "Bud" Baron

Dina Michael Chaitowitz - Etz Hayim Synagogue

Dina is a lawyer and Chief of Appeals at the U.S. Attorney Office, Boston – Federal Prosecutor for District of Massachusetts.

She has been Class Parent for approximately three years for her son Sam's Hebrew School class. In their B'Nai Mitzvah year, she helped organize a group project in which a band of seven students went to various area nursing homes to play music for the residents.

Elijah's Table (ET) is an Etz Hayim community project in which the synagogue prepares and serves a monthly supper to the folks of Derry. Dina has created and maintains the ET Blog (<https://freemealsinderry.blogspot.com>), which provides information on the times, dates, and locations of free meals that are available in the Londonderry/Derry area; the blog also posts photographs of the meals, the guests, and the volunteers. Dina creates and distributes the monthly electronic sign-up sheet that organizes the food donations for the monthly free meals, and notifies local newspapers of the event. She cooks for and serves at the monthly meal.

She participates in the local Community Meals Network, which meets and shares information about the needs of the hungry in the area, and publishes a calendar approximately every six months that sets out the free meals provided by organizations within the

Dina Michael Chaitowitz

Community Meals Network.

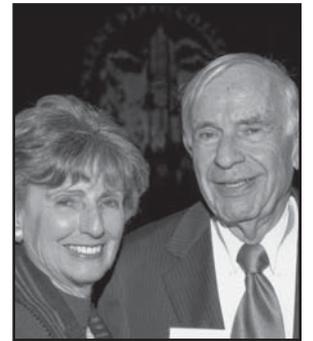

Dina has been on the Etz Hayim Synagogue Board of Directors for one year. Previously, she served on Etz Hayim Synagogue Education Committee for two years.

Norma and Lester Cohen – Congregation Ahavas Achim

Norma and Lester Cohen joined Congregation Ahavas Achim when they moved to Keene in 1981 and have been active supporters ever since. For the past 32 years, Lester has read the Haftorah at every High Holiday Service. Their children, grandchildren, and now their great-grandchildren are involved in Ahavas Achim. Norma was very active in the Sisterhood program, raising funds for repairs and decorations in the building over the years.

The Cohens are considered by many to be the matriarch and patriarch of Ahavas Achim's Jewish community and have presided over a lifetime of Jewish events and fundraising activities, both in New Hampshire and at their winter home in Florida.

The Cohen Center for Holocaust and Genocide Studies at Keene State College is named for the Cohen family.

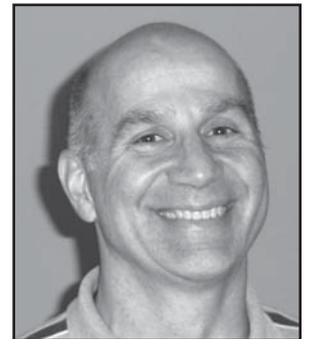

Norma and Lester Cohen

Bob Feldmann – Jewish Federation of New Hampshire

Bob Feldmann moved to Londonderry in 1999 with his wife, Marcia, and daughter, Molly. A month after arriving, Deena was born, and then Eli was born two years later. Bob and his family have been active members of Temple Beth Abraham and Chabad Lubavitch, and all three of their children attended the JFNH Preschool. When the kids got older, they were all onstage in productions in the JFNH Theatre, with Marcia and Bob in supporting roles behind the scenes.

Bob attended Rochester Institute of Technology, where he received a BS in Mechanical Engineering. This was followed by four years as a training officer in the U.S. Army at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland. After that, Bob went to work as a design engineer at General Motors in Dayton, OH, where he worked for Inland/Delco Products/Delco Chassis/Delphi Chassis until 1999. While in Dayton, he earned an MS in Materials Engineering at University of Dayton. Since 1999, Bob has worked as a design engineer at Freudenberg-NOK/Vibracoustic/TrelleborgVibracoustic in Manchester.

Bob is being recognized today for his service to the Jewish Federation of NH, where he has been a Board Member since 2004. Bob served as Treasurer for two years and has been on the Planning & Allocations Committee for the past nine years, which he chaired for seven years. He has served on the Building Committee and the Executive Director Search Committee.

Bob Feldmann

Bert Freedman - Temple Israel, Portsmouth

Bert is a second-generation member of Temple Israel, Portsmouth. His children, Nathan and Elana, were both Bar/Bat Mitzvah in the temple, the same temple where Bert himself was made Bar Mitzvah (his son had the same Haftorah) and where he and his wife Deb were married. His mother is still a member as well. Bert lives in Portsmouth and owns George & Phillips Sporting Good in Exeter, NH, a family-owned business for 93 years.

Bert has served on the temple Board of Directors for many years, and he has been a member of committees including Capital Campaign, Financial Oversight, Social Events, and Bingo. He also ran the Annual Meeting Dinner for many years.

2013/5773 Shem Tov Award Recipients

Katy Gibney – Temple Beth Jacob

Katy was raised on Long Island and graduated from Adelphi University with a BSRN. She has been married to Tim for 23 years. They have four children: Jacob, Rose, Jera, and Sam. Katy was instrumental in gathering together a community of like-minded friends and families, called Community WithOut Walls. It has coalesced into nearly 40 families who gather for open-mic nights with potluck dinners. Within the CWOW community, Katy helped start Nature's Child, a group of mothers who homeschool their children.

Katy is the Nurse at Camp Glen Brook during their summer and winter programs. Katy loves music and is a very caring and compassionate human being. Currently, Katy is training to become a Certified Music Practitioner.

Katy Gibney

Bob Goldberg – Temple Israel, Portsmouth

Bob has always been an active participant in his Jewish community, serving on the board of directors and as president of his prior congregation in California. Currently residing in Greenland, NH, he and his wife Marjorie of 61 years have been members of Temple Israel Portsmouth for 23 years. They have two sons and two daughters. After a long and storied career in air pollution control, Bob is enjoying retirement.

Bob was instrumental in inaugurating recycling in Somersworth, NH, and served as a selectman there, and he is a volunteer at NHPTV. Bob is a regular at Saturday morning services, and he helps organize the Tuesday minyan each week.

Bob served on the Board of Directors for six years and held the positions of treasurer and financial secretary. He currently serves on the temple's Ritual Committee. Bob has been a key member of Brotherhood as well as treasurer for over 15 years.

Bob Goldberg

Patricia Kalik – Jewish Federation of New Hampshire

Pat Kalik moved to New Hampshire in 1984 with her family after purchasing Executive Exchange, a local Manchester call center and answering service. Pat grew up in New Rochelle, NY, and graduated from Cornell University with a BS in Food Science. Then Pat spent seven years working in the ski industry. Pat has two children, Lisa and Daniel. Lisa is 36 and is a primary care physician in New York City. Daniel, age 32, lives in Washington, DC, and works as the Director for Political Affairs for J Street.

Pat is currently the president of Professional Teledata, a telecommunications company located in Manchester. Professional Teledata is a provider of software to call centers and answering services. Pat has been a member of Temple Adath Yeshurun since arriving in Manchester and is currently a Board member of the Jewish Federation. Pat has acted as the co-chairperson of the New Hampshire Jewish Film Festival for the past two years and is planning to continue her active role in this exciting cultural event. Pat's love of cinema and desire to bring great Jewish films to our community has helped make the festival a success.

Patricia Kalik

Aida Koocher – Temple Israel, Manchester

Since 1988, Aida Koocher has been an integral member of Temple Israel. Her history of volunteer service began with her leadership of the Junior Congregation in 1999. She went on to contribute to the continuation of the Book of Life, which is used during Yizkor services. Aida's involvement with the Kol Israel publication has kept Temple members connected.

Aida is a past and current member of the Board of Directors. During this time she has served as Treasurer and Co-President of Temple Israel. Her most recent endeavor has been serving Religious School Committee Chair. Prior to this, Aida taught at the former Community Religious School. When the institution dissolved, Aida felt strongly about continuing to provide Conservative religious education to Jewish youth. This led to the inception of Temple Israel's current Religious School. The school is now a well-established pillar of the temple and an important part of many members' lives.

Although she is originally from New Jersey, Aida has built a wonderful life in Salem, NH, with her husband, Edward, and their son, Nathan, who is currently finishing his junior year at the University of Pennsylvania. Outside of the Temple, Aida still dedicates her life to helping others. She has been a speech and language pathologist in the Salem School District for the last 33 years, working with preschool and elementary school children with a wide variety of needs. Aida has a passion for the people in all aspects of her life and those that she serves. She truly exemplifies the qualities the temple seeks when selecting a Shem Tov recipient.

Aida Koocher

Carol E. Kraus - Monadnock Havurah

Carol was greatly influenced by being immersed in the world culture of New York City as she was growing up. Her parents' escape from Nazi Germany gave her a sensitivity to the persecution of ethnic groups everywhere.

Carol attended college in West Virginia and lived most of her adult life in Boston. She worked as a medical and psychiatric nurse, and raised a son from El Salvador since his infancy. She was an active member at Congregation Eitz Chayim in Cambridge, MA.

Five years ago Carol moved to Peterborough, NH, where she lives in a cohousing community with an expanding CSA. A portion of the CSA crops are donated to underprivileged families. She has been actively involved in the Monadnock Havurah and has served on the Board of the Jewish Federation of New Hampshire.

Carol has a passion for arts of all kinds, especially drawing, painting, and writing, and she occasionally dabbles in these arts herself. She has been and still is a frequent museum visitor and concert goer in the Monadnock area as well as in Boston and NYC.

Carol loves the concept of healing of body, mind, and spirit. For many years she practiced as an RN in the Boston area. She studied massage therapy, Reiki, and the Trager approach and has maintained her Trager Practitioner's certificate since 2002. She works with the dying through the local hospice, HCS.

Betty Lauer - Upper Valley Jewish Community

It is 1938. Berta Weissberger, 12 years old, lives in Hindenburg, Germany, with her mother and older sister. Her father has already left for America, and the family is awaiting the arrival of their American visas. These hopes and plans are destroyed at the end of October 1938, however, when Jews are rounded up, loaded onto trucks, and driven to the Polish border. They are forced to cross a river into Poland and ordered, "Keep walking and do not turn back. Anyone attempting to turn back will be shot."

So begins Berta's terrifying odyssey in Nazi-occupied Poland. For the next seven years, while living a life of constant vigilance and fear, Berta grows into womanhood, moving from town to town under assumed identities. She later marries an American serviceman, moves to the United States, and raises her family.

Most remarkably, to this day Betty Lauer exemplifies the strength, resilience, hope, and faith that enabled her to survive and to go on to a rich Jewish life, which she seeks to pass on to the next generations.

Betty Lauer

Stacey Moore - Temple Beth Jacob

Stacey grew up in Hauppauge, NY, and has been married to Shaun for 27 years. She has three children: Sarah, Cameron, and Collin. Stacey was a preschool teacher for many years before moving to her present job of preparing corporate training materials for sales people.

Throughout her life, Stacey has helped others. If something needs to be done, she just does it. If she is not leading or working with a group of volunteers around Concord, you can find her taking care of some detail at Temple Beth Jacob. Stacey is also a regular cast member of the Manchester Community Players.

Stacey Moore

Jack Resnick - Chabad Lubavitch of New Hampshire

Jack was born and raised in Manchester, NH, married his lovely wife Eileen in 1963, and was involved in many businesses over the years. He ran a silk screening business making signs with the late Armand Zaner and also worked for Murray Levy in a TOY 7 Hobby store in Manchester and Concord, NH. When his father fell ill in 1976, Jack, together with his wife, Eileen, took over the Tiny Totland Baby Furniture and Toy store, which had been established by his dad, Joseph Chickie Resnick, in 1946. The store had a presence on Elm Street in Manchester. Working with Eileen, Jack added stores in South Portland, ME, and later in Portsmouth, NH. Their son Mark joined the Baby/Teen Superstore Baby Furniture after graduating from the University of Hartford, Conn. Jack and Eileen had the operation for five years before it closed in 2010 after three generations and 65 years in business.

Since the inception of the daily minyan at Chabad Lubavitch, Jack has made himself available any day, at any time, to join and help make a minyan. He is always available to share and provide ideas and knowledge based on his many years of experience. In recognition of his devotion and willingness to always help out at Chabad Lubavitch, Chabad nominates him as a Shem Tov awardee.

Jack looks forward to celebrating his 50th Wedding anniversary with Eileen shortly. Jack and Eileen have two sons and four grandchildren.

Jack Resnick

David Riese - Etz Hayim Synagogue

David, his wife, and their two children are long-time members of Etz Hayim Synagogue. David is a mechanical engineer for Raytheon. Besides being on the Board of Directors for two years, David was in charge of building maintenance from 2008 until 2012. David is also very active in the Boy Scouts of America.

He is a regular at Elijah's Table (an Etz Hayim community project in which the synagogue prepares and serves a monthly supper to residents of Derry who are in need of a warm meal), where he assists with set-up, serving, and clean-up along with his family.

David is the type of person who is always smiling and ready to lend a helping hand around the synagogue.

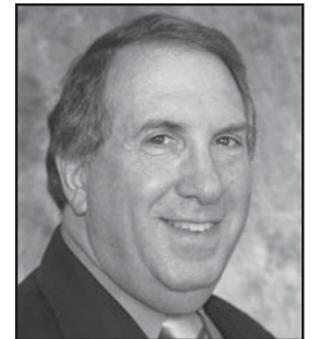

David Riese

Michael Rosenblum - Jewish Federation of New Hampshire

Michael, who served as JFNH President from 2009 to 2011, was first president from outside Manchester. A Board member of Temple Beth Abraham in Nashua for over 20 years, he has served as President, TBA Section Campaign Chair, and Treasurer, currently serving his second stint in this role. He has also served on various nonprofit boards, including the American Heart Association and (currently) the Nashua Airport Authority. Before moving to New Hampshire in 1988, Michael worked for CPA firms, served as an accountant for Lender's Bagels, and was the controller of New Haven Legal Assistance. He has served as Executive Vice President for the NH Automobile Dealers Association for 25 years.

Born in the Bronx and raised in Levittown, Long Island, Mike is a graduate of Northeastern University. As a youth, he was very involved in AZA (now BBYO) and spent a summer volunteering on Kibbutz Maoz Chaim in Israel's Jordan Valley. Lifelong friends made on that trip introduced Mike to Stephanie, his wife of 34 years. They have two grown daughters: Arriel, coordinator of Syracuse University's London gap year program, lives in the U.K. with husband, Arriel Eder; Raissa, an analyst for Cisco, lives in Jerusalem with husband, Uziel Hacoheh. This has given Mike and Stephanie a great reason to visit Israel and our sister region, Hof Hacarmel. In Mike's spare time, he enjoys skiing and photography, and he is a certified general aviation pilot with over 1,000 flight hours. He also volunteers his time flying medical patients to long-distance appointments thru the nonprofit organization Angel Flight.

Michael Rosenblum

Elaine Schwartz - Congregation Betenu

In addition to supporting Congregation Betenu in all activities, Elaine is passionate about helping children. Elaine was the preschool teacher for many years.

Elaine can always count on her family for support in her synagogue endeavors. She teams up with Barbara Bailey, and both women are active on the Education Committee and volunteer in the religious school. Elaine has been co-chairing the Tu B'Shevat Seder at Congregation Betenu for more than 20 years. She is instrumental in organizing, sorting, schlepping, and selling at the Congregation's fall yard sale. Also, she is always available when the congregation or a member needs a helping hand

John Weber – Temple Israel, Manchester

John and his wife, Dina, moved to Bedford from western Pennsylvania in 1984. They joined Temple Israel shortly thereafter and have been members ever since. All three of their children (Jason, Evan, and Margreta) were Bar and Bat Mitzvah at Temple Israel.

John converted to Judaism in 2002 under the tutelage of Rabbi Jacob Rosner. He soon became active in Temple Israel, joining the board in 2003 and assuming the duties of Treasurer in 2004. He has continued as Treasurer of Temple Israel ever since.

John is semi-retired from BAE Systems in Nashua and enjoys various athletic activities including running, biking, and water and snow skiing with his family.

John is truly a member of the Temple Israel family and remains stalwart in making himself available for Temple activities. He is always there when we need him, and we are proud to honor him with the Shem Tov award.

John Weber

Shari Zedeck – Temple Beth Abraham

Shari has made TBA her second home. She has served the congregation in numerous roles, including years on the Temple Board of Directors and as its Secretary. While others dodged some hefty assignments, Shari willingly accepted the mantle of leadership and undertook many tasks essential to the stability of TBA. Her contributions to the School Board helped to improve the depth and breadth of offerings to our students. She completed extensive research and data compilation that resulted in the School Director's position becoming full-time.

For several years Shari handled all of the financial management for our USY chapter and served as a valued advisor to the Youth Director. Her long hours of work helped to assure the continuing good works of our USY chapter.

Shari's dedication to Sisterhood is remarkable. As a member she worked in many capacities and served as the head of the College Outreach Program that mailed TBA updates and traditional Jewish holiday foods and goodies to college students during the academic year. As Sisterhood Co-President, she instituted new ideas and programs such as BABKA, the monthly book club, and joint social/fund raising programs with the Men's Club. She continues to serve, behind the scenes, in this position.

Although her work for our congregation sounds like a full-time job, she actually works in the outside world. Shari is employed by Compuware, a large business software company, where she is the Director of Product Management, leading teams in Lexington, MA, Detroit, and overseas. Previously she was Vice President of NaviNet, a medical software company in Cambridge, MA. She worked at Hewlett Packard in various marketing management roles for over 13 years.

Shari Zedeck

Theodore "Ted" Yegerman – Temple Adath Yeshurun

Ted has had years of service to Temple Adath Yeshurun Brotherhood and the entire TAY community. He has an unmatched ability to bring joy to every single person he shares a room with. He is a generous donor to Temple Adath Yeshurun's fundraising auction.

Theodore "Ted" Yegerman

2013/5773 Irma and Gary Wallin Young Leadership Award

Davida Rubin-Baker

Davida Rubin-Baker is a native of South Florida. After graduating from Brandeis University with degrees in Psychology and Philosophy, she got her J.D. from Boston College Law School and practiced commercial real estate and affordable housing for a short time before making the decision to stay home full-time to parent her growing family. Davida and her family moved to Bedford, NH, in 2004.

Even before the move, Davida sought to connect to the Jewish community in NH and came to visit both the Jewish Federation and the Jewish Federation Preschool, where all four of Davida's children ended up spending some of their formative years. Currently, the Bakers are active members of Temple Beth Abraham, and her children attend the temple's religious school.

Feeling grateful for the opportunities that she and her family have had to be part of New Hampshire's Jewish community, Davida was excited to help play a role in keeping NH's Jewish community vibrant and engaged. In the fall of 2011, Davida began to serve on the JFNH Board of Directors; soon after joining the Board, Davida organized a commemoration event for Kristallnacht.

In early 2012, Davida became chair of the Preschool Task Force, a committee established by the Federation Board to make a recommendation regarding the status of the preschool in the event of a potential future building sale. After much research and analysis, the committee determined that the preschool had the potential to operate on a break-even basis after an initial subsidy if it was required to rent space at a future time.

While serving as chair of the task force, Davida also became head of the Preschool Committee and currently serves as a liaison between the Preschool and the Federation Board. Last year Davida focused on making the Preschool more visible to the community and in that spirit organized an event to bring circus performer Troy Wonderle to perform at the school. The event was open to the public and as a result, many new faces came to the show, had a great time, and most importantly, had a chance to learn more about the high-quality early education experience offered by the Preschool.

Davida recently joined the advisory counsel for the Cohen Center for Holocaust and Genocide studies at Keene State College. With a commitment to remembering the lessons of the Holocaust and helping to prevent future genocide, Davida is enrolled in the center's 2013 Summer Institute, an intensive, residential week-long educational experience. She hopes that her participation in this institute will help her prepare meaningful future programming for the greater community.

JFNH Strategic Plan:

- CONNECT TO PEOPLE: Provide programming and information to bring Jews throughout New Hampshire together in a welcoming and inclusive environment.
- CONNECT TO COMMUNITY: Serve as a central voice for the New Hampshire Jewish community, combating anti-Semitism and advocating for Jewish causes.
- CONNECT TO CARING: Provide a safety net and referrals to ensure that basic needs are met for all Jews in our community
- CONNECT TO LEARNING: Support Jewish learning opportunities, particularly for youth.
- CONNECT TO ISRAEL AND WORLDWIDE JEWRY: Create and strengthen meaningful connections between Jews in New Hampshire and those in Israel and around the world.

Shlichah's Year in Review

The shlichah's role is to create a bridge between New Hampshire and Israel. In my time here I tried to show Israel through my story and my connection to Judaism. I visited preschools, Hebrew schools, teen groups, Hillel groups, adult groups, and much more. The photos on this page give you a little taste of my year.

Addendum to the 2013/5773 Shem Tov Award Recipients

Ellen Covici

Shem Tov Award –Manchester Chapter of Hadssah

Ellen is a certified Kindergarten teacher with 34 years of experience in the field of Early Childhood Education. She grew up in Newton, MA, and attended Boston University. She graduated from Wheelock College, in Boston, MA with a BA degree in Elementary Education and a BS degree in Early Childhood Education. She moved to Dallas/ Fort Worth area of TX in 1977, and taught kindergarten and first grade for 30 years.

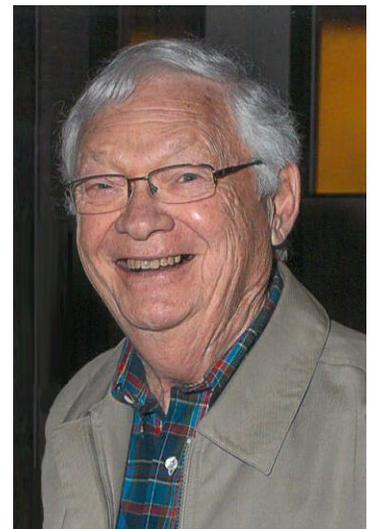

She recently retired from teaching in the public schools, and moved back home to be closer to her family. As luck would have it, the Federation Preschool was looking to once again start a kindergarten program. She has been the kindergarten teacher of the JFNH preschool for 2 years.

Ted Yegerman

Shem Tov Award –Temple Adath Yeshurun

Ted was born in Williamsburg, Brooklyn at Midnight on Sunday, July 4th, 1926. The holiday was celebrated on Monday the 5th. His mother told him he was a 4th of July baby and he didn't argue. Not too many people argued with his mother! It was only in his later years that he realized his birth certificate reads July 5th! Hey, that's between the government and his mother. Williamsburg was a Jewish enclave in 1926, so his first language was Yiddish. Meaning, he didn't speak English! Both his parents were shoe workers and they moved to where the work was. He was definitely at a disadvantage speaking Yiddish in Somersworth, NH and South Berwick, ME. Eventually, the family moved back to Williamsburg. Ted attended Eastern District High School, (so did Red Auerbach). He graduated from City College of New York with a degree in business after doing his bit in Europe during World War Two. Ted worked in Manhattan, was transferred to Philadelphia, and then to Manchester. He worked for Arms Textile, (now a parking lot). Arms stands for "Alvin, Robert, Morris, Stanley Sheer". They were the owners. Ted's wife raised two children here, Richard and Barbara. Later in life he married Ruth Berger and together they raised their grandson, Christopher Berger. Ruth died in 1999. Chris and Ted are still together. Ted's friends at TAY are always there for him. Life is good!

Ted has served the Temple Adath Yeshurun Brotherhood and the entire TAY community for many years. He has an unmatched ability to bring joy to every single person he shares a room with. He is a Raconteur par excellence, who shares his humor generously with the entire community. Ted is a generous donor to Temple Adath Yeshurun's fundraising auction, and was the 2008 TAY Brotherhood Man of the Year.
