

Sylvia & George Falk

In 1974, we decided to move from New Jersey because of our passion for skiing and country-style living. We wanted to live in a Jewish community for both ourselves and our three young children. Fortunately for us, we found Longmeadow, MA. Our early years were spent with much involvement in Heritage Academy and the Federation. Our children flourished in our community and enjoyed a firm Jewish foundation and identity. We were so fortunate to have an established Jewish school, synagogues and the JCC because of the generations who came before us. Now it is our turn to think about the future. It is much more than an obligation to “give-back”. We are truly grateful for the privilege and opportunity of making a legacy gift commitment that will continue to enrich future generations.
