POLAND

Before the outbreak of World War II, more than 3.3 million Jews lived in Poland, the largest Jewish population of Europe and second largest Jewish community in the world. Poland served as the center for Jewish culture - contributing to a wide variety of religious and cultural groups. Barely 11% of Poland's Jews - 369,000 people - survived the war. Half of all Jews who perished in the Holocaust were from Poland. Most American and European Jews can trace their roots to the region. And while many do not acknowledge it, 25,000 Polish citizens today are believed to be of at least partial Jewish heritage.

Explore Poland's complicated post-war history. Meet the people and community who have rendered the recovery of its long Jewish legacy and explore what the Jewish community in Poland has been doing to help displaced Ukrainians refugees.

The Jewish Historical Institute (JHI) of Poland was established in Warsaw in 1947. It includes a historical research institute, a museum, a library and reading room, archives on the history of Polish Jewry >from 1700 to the present day, and several specialized departments (Historical Sites, Righteous of the Nations, Holocaust Claims, etc.). Among its holdings are the communal archives of Cracow and Breslau, the underground archives of the Warsaw Ghetto, a collection of some 7,000 Holocaust testimonies and over 300 diaries, as well as unique manuscript collections.

Invited Guest: Mr. Yale Reisner

Lunch and a visit to the JCC in Warsaw offers a unique opportunity for young leaders to witness the remarkable resilience of the Jewish community. In a city where the tragedy of the Holocaust nearly extinguished Jewish life, JDC's bustling JCC Warsaw stands strong as a reemerging spark of the legacy of Warsaw Jewry. Pierogi workshop.

The Rappaport Memorial, better known as the Ghetto Uprising Memorial- is a tribute to the fighters (on the front panel) and the other victims (on the rear panel) of the Warsaw Ghetto. Natan Rapoport (1911-1987) was the sculptor who designed the memorial which was unveiled in April 1948. It stands as a symbol of remembrance and hope. Mila 18, the headquarters "bunker" of the Jewish resistance group in the Warsaw Ghetto and Umschlagplatz - a term used during the Holocaust to denote the holding areas adjacent to railway stations where Jews from ghettos were assembled for deportation to Nazi death camps.

After a day immersed in the harrowing history of the Warsaw Ghetto, we will pause to reflect on the profound impact of the Holocaust. Standing on the very ground where countless lives were lost, we will honor the memory of the six million victims and renew our commitment to ensuring that we will never forget. We will lay a wreath as a symbol of our remembrance and our promise to future generations.

Your Itinerary

SATURDAY, DAY 6

Breakfast at the hotel

Depart for Wawel hill. Visit the castle from the outside and go into Cathedral to see the collection of grave tombs of Polish Kings, including the grave of King Kasimir the Great who established The Jewish district. The Jewish district is named after him – Kazimierz. Continue our walking tour and experience the perplexity of Kazimierz in Kraków, the historical Jewish district. During the tour, you may feel contradictory emotions all at once: joy at discovering the rich history, culture, and traditions of Polish Jewry; sadness and nostalgia for all that was lost; and perhaps excitement at witnessing the rebirth of Jewish life.

Meet with Holocaust Survivor, Mrs. Pani Zosia

Volunteer at the JCC in Krakow where we will pack food for Ukrainian refugees.

Come curious, leave inspired: A Cross-Community Leadership Experience

Have lunch at the JCC and spend Shabbat afternoon connecting with dynamic young leaders from Hillel Krakow in an energizing, hands-on workshop. Dive into shared stories, bold ideas, and the challenges of leading in a rapidly changing world. We'll explore how our histories and traditions influence the way we connect, build community, and tackle issues that matter most to our generation. But this isn't just about talking—be ready to think on your feet, collaborate, and discover new perspectives. We'll cap it off with an unexpected twist that's designed to spark creativity, connection, and a bit of fun.

We'll close with a reflection session, creating space to share insights & emotions.
