To the Members of United Jewish Appeal of Greater Toronto

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of United Jewish Appeal of Greater Toronto, which comprise the balance sheet as at June 30, 2012 and the statements of net proceeds for allocation to beneficiaries and net assets, and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes, which comprise a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

1 Purpose of the Organization

The United Jewish Appeal of Greater Toronto (the Organization) raises funds for charitable purposes. It distributes funds to the United Jewish Welfare Fund of Toronto (UJWF) and the United Israel Appeal of Canada Inc.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

Revenue recognition

The Organization follows the restricted fund method of accounting. Campaign revenue is recognized when a pledge is received. A provision for uncollectible pledges is recorded to reduce pledges receivable and revenue. Revenue from special campaigns and other overseas initiatives is recognized as amounts are received.

Designated grants and related expenses

Designated grants and expenses include costs directly associated with raising these amounts. These costs are recognized on an accrual basis. The designated grants are recognized as an expense when the related designated revenues have been received.

Allocation of net proceeds

The net proceeds from the annual campaign of the Organization are allocated between the UJWF and the United Israel Appeal of Canada Inc., in accordance with approved budgets.

Donated services

As is common with many charitable organizations, many services of the Organization are voluntarily provided by the community. Since these services are not normally purchased by the Organization, and because of the difficulties in determining their fair value, the value of the donated services is not recognized in these financial statements.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value and their subsequent measurement is dependent on their classification as described below. The classification depends on the purpose for which the financial instruments were acquired or issued, their characteristics and the Organization's designation of such instruments. The accounting standards require that all financial assets be classified as held-for-trading (HFT), available-for-sale (AFS), held-to-maturity (HTM) or loans and receivables (LR). Financial liabilities should be classified as HFT or as other liabilities (OL).

The following is a summary of the accounting model the Organization has elected to apply to each of its significant categories of financial instruments outstanding:

Assets/liabilities	Category	Measurement
Cash and cash equivalents	HFT	fair value
Campaign pledges receivable	HFT	fair value
Sundry assets	LR	amortized cost
Accounts payable, accrued liabilities and pledge payments received in advance	OL	amortized cost
Allocations payable	OL	amortized cost

Use of estimates

Financial statements prepared in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles require management to make estimates and assumptions about reported assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations

In December 2010, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board issued a comprehensive set of accounting standards applicable to not-for-profit organizations. The standards are effective for fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2012 and require retrospective application, except for certain exemptions and exceptions contained within the standards. Early adoption of the standards is permitted. The Organization is currently considering the impact of the adoption of these standards.

9 Management of capital

In managing capital, the Organization focuses on liquid resources available for operations. The Organization's objective is to have sufficient liquid resources to continue to operate despite adverse events with financial consequences and to provide it with the flexibility to take advantage of opportunities that will advance its purposes. The need for sufficient resources is considered in the preparation of an annual budget and in the monitoring of cash flows and actual operating results compared to budget. As at June 30, 2012, the Organization has met its objective in having sufficient resources to meet its current obligations.
