Well-known Producer Gerry Abrams visits Harrisburg for Israel Bonds

By Alyce Spector

The week of November 24-29, 2013 was of particular importance. The 50th Anniversary of President Kennedy's assassination, Hanukkah falling on the same day as Thanksgiving, which will never happen again in our lifetime, and Gerry Abrams the well-known Hollywood producer and father of J.J. Abrams, the producer of "Star Wars II" coming to Harrisburg for Israel Bonds.

After Mort Spector, Chairman of the Israel Bonds event, greeted everyone, he called on Rabbi Ron Muroff of Chisuk Emuna Congregation who gave a very inspiring Invocation and D'var Torah. Lee Siegel, Steering Committee Member made the Hamotzi, and a very delicious buffet was served by Norman Gras.

Alyce Spector introduced Gerry by sharing interesting tidbits of Gerry growing up in Harrisburg.

Gerry was born in Harrisburg to Lillian and Sam Abrams, who owned the Army & Navy store at 3rd and Broad Streets. He attended the first Silver Academy on 3rd Street next door to the old Jewish Community Center.

Gerry's childhood friends attended the Israel Bonds Brunch to pay tribute to Gerry. George Krevsky was there from California, Corky Goldstein and Gerry Morrison remembered old times with Gerry. George Krevsky related the story about his classmate, Gerry, who was constantly being reprimanded by the teacher for not paying attention in class. He stared out the window – day dreaming. The teacher nicknamed him Cholem Yosef Cholem – "Gerry the daydreamer". Gerry's "daydreaming" eventually evolved into reality.

Gerry spoke about his early years and his struggles in getting to Hollywood after his graduation from Penn State University in 1961. He has been a television producer for more than four decades with credits like "The Secret Life of John Chapman", "Nuremburg", "Florence Nightingale", and "The Life of Golda Meir".

In 1965, Gerry began his TV career with WCBS-TV as an account executive. He worked his way to become head of CBS television of West Coast Sales which led to Sales Manager in 1971 of KCBS-TV, owned by CBS in Los Angeles.

In 1973 he joined JOZAC Co as Vice President of Creative Affairs that segued into his producing career in making "The Secret Life of John Chapman", producing "The Life of James Dean", and "Red Alert" that won two Emmy Awards.

In 1978 Gerry formed his own company Cypress Point Productions. In 1985 he formed Phoenix Entertainment Group that was acquired by the Hearst Entertainment Production where he served as co-chairman for eight years.

He produced so many stunning films such as the four hour mini-series "Monte Carlo," filmed in France, "A Father's Revenge," shot in Berlin, Germany, starring Brian Dennehey. He filmed "Jekyll & Hyde" with Michael Caine and Cheryl Ladd in England, "Daughters of Darkness" with Anthony Perkins shot in Budapest, Hungary and "Family of Spies", a five hour mini series shot in Vienna, Austria.

In 2003 he produced "North Hollywood Shoot Out". The 7X Network's highest rated and Emmy Award winning show. He then made "Out of Ashes," shot in Vilna, Lithuania. In 2004 "The Mystery of Natalie Wood" was filmed in Sydney, Australia. His newest release will be the "Life of Houdini" in 2014.

Gerry showed a short excerpt of his film "Nuremburg", the trial of Nazi leaders responsible for killing six million Jews. The film segued into Bond Chairman Mort Spector explaining how important it has always been to support Israel by investing in Israel Bonds that supports Israel's infrastructure in building roads, bridges, electric power and modern technology.

Mort introduced Harold Marcus, Executive Director, Pennsylvania Region, who informed the crowd in attendance that the investment of Israel Bonds in Israel's development has reaped huge dividends over six decades. The sale of Israel Bonds is global. Sales have exceeded $35 Billion since the first bonds were issued in 1951.

Today, Israel Bonds enables the building of state-of-the-art transportation networks and cutting edge technology, robotics, solar energy, nanotechnology, water technology and desalination. The world's leading technology companies have established a presence in Israel, Intel, Apple, Microsoft, Google, IBM, Motorola, and Hewlett-Packard.

Steering Committee member Michael Doctrow emphasized "investing in Israel Bonds achieves two goals; helping to meet personal, financial objectives and helping Israel in bringing science technology to the entire world".

Mort encouraged everyone to read the materials on each table that tells of Israel's accomplishments. This small country lays claim to the following:

1. The cell phone was developed in Israel by Israelis working in the Israeli branch of Motorola.
2. Most of the Windows NT and XP operating systems were developed by Microsoft-Israel.

FROM THE BACK OF THE BUS TO THE TOP OF THE AGENDA

In recent years Israel has been dealing with demands for more modesty in the public sphere in order to adjust to religious standards. This has resulted in segregation between men and women in public transportation, the exclusion of women in public ceremonies and events, discrimination of girls wishing to have a Bat Mitzvah at the Western Wall and the silencing of women singers on religious radio and army ceremonies. This presentation follows some of the landmark victories over segregation and exclusion and looks at the remaining challenges in this area.

1st Annual Kosher Wing Bowl & Veggie Soup Cook-Off

The JCC will host the first annual community-wide kosher wing cook-off and vegetarian soup cook-off on Sunday, February 2 at the JCC, 3301 N Front Street, Harrisburg from 12:00 – 2:00 pm.

The wing cook-off and vegetarian soup cook-off are open to the entire community and are intended to bring diverse parts of the community together in a fun, family-orientated setting.

There are three ways to participate.....

First, competing teams or individuals, may enter and cook their favorite wing recipe or vegetarian soup recipe. Teams can enter representing community organizations, synagogues, temples, sisterhoods, families, or just a collection of friends. Teams are encouraged to register early, as space is limited, and registrants will be accepted on a first-come basis. To register your team, please e-mail Andrea at a.weikert@jewishfedhbg.org. Teams will also be judged on team spirit. The JCC will supply each team/individual with the kosher wings, and the teams supply their secret kosher ingredients.

The second way to participate is to attend. Even for those who may not want to cook, the entire community is invited to the event as official tasters. There is no admission fee, so competing teams are encouraged to bring all their friends and family to support them.

The third way to participate is to bring a canned food item to be donated to the Jewish Family Service Pantry to help fight hunger.

JCC Programs are funded by the Annual Campaign of the Jewish Federation of Greater Harrisburg.
