

Jewish Federation of the Bluegrass, Inc.
Scholarships for Israel Study and Israel Programs

Jewish Federation of the Bluegrass (JFB) has available limited annual scholarships, none of which may exceed one third (1/3) of the cost of the program or $1,000.00 (whichever amount is less) for young members of the Jewish community who wish to study in Israel or participate in Israel programs during their high school career. The scholarships are given to assist Jewish youth of central Kentucky to strengthen their commitment to Judaism. All decisions are made by an anonymous committee.

DEADLINE: April 1, 2019

CRITERIA: Applicants must submit a written request for a scholarship to Jewish Federation of the Bluegrass, which must include the following:

- Description of the program in which you plan to attend, including:
  - cost of the program.
  - purpose of the program.
  - sponsoring agency or program.
  - mailing address and website of sponsoring agency or program.
  - deadlines for application and tuition payment.
- Description of your present involvement with the Jewish community, if any.
- Plans for involvement within the community upon returning from Israel.
- Expectations of what Israel study / Israel program will mean to you and how you think the experience will affect you.
- Include statement that you agree to submit a written report to JFB upon your return about your trip, including thoughts, reflections, and how the Israel experience may affect your present and future responsibility as a member of the Jewish community.
