“BISCUIT” AUTHOR COMING TO JCC ON DEC. 6 FOR FREE EVENT

Presenting a special Bagels & Books Series event, part of the JCC’s Arts & Culture Festival

WOODBIDGE, Connecticut; Sunday, Dec. 6, 2015 at 10:30 a.m. – Listen to author Alyssa Satin Capucilli read “Biscuit’s Hanukkah” in the Community Room at the JCC of Greater New Haven. The event is free and open to the public. Learn how to celebrate Hanukkah with everyone’s favorite puppy, Biscuit the dog, as part of the Arts & Culture Festival 2015 Bagels & Books Series.

Capucilli, who was born in Brooklyn, NY, in 1957, is the author of the very popular children’s books about a rambunctious, little yellow puppy named Biscuit as well as many imaginative books for both pre-schoolers and beginning readers.

While you are stopping in to hear “Biscuit’s Hanukkah,” stop by at the JCC’s 12th Annual Craft & Gift Fair, which runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the JCC that day. The event is free and includes vendors offering accessories, home décor, jewelry, pottery and gifts.
