MAY 2016

REMEMBER

"Remember" will be playing at the Goggleworks starting on May 20.
Show times are daily at 3 pm and 7 pm.

Remember tells the story of Zev Guttman (Academy Award Winner Christopher Plummer), a 90-year-old struggling with memory loss who is living out his final years in a serene retirement home. A week following the death of his beloved wife Ruth, he suddenly gets a mysterious package from his close friend Max (Academy Award Winner Martin Landau), containing a stack of money and a letter detailing a shocking plan. Both Zev and Max were prisoners in Auschwitz, and the same sadistic guard was responsible for the death of both their families—a guard who, immediately after the war, escaped Germany and has been living in the U.S. ever since under an assumed identity. Max is wheelchair-bound but in full command of his mental faculties; with his guidance, Zev will embark on a cross-continental road-trip to bring justice once and for all to the man who destroyed both their lives.

Academy Award nominated director Atom Egoyan creates a thrillingly fast-paced revenge story that, in a highly original and deeply intimate way, deals with the aftermath of one of the most deplorable and significant events in recent history. With an incredible lead performance from Christopher Plummer as the frail but unstoppable Zev, Remember manages to keep audiences on the edge of their seats while giving them something to think about long after the film is over.

How did she break into a boy's-club industry? How has she balanced a brilliant career with a private life? Stahl is a grandmother now, and says the experience has transformed her. In her deeply personal new book, she explores how becoming a grandmother opens up even the most successful woman's life. She shares her own personal story and others from women of all walks of life—from the famous to the woman next door, as well as the latest studies on the scientific effects of this important and life-changing role of becoming a grandmother!
