WHAT IS TBJFF?

- Founded in 1995, the festival has quickly grown in size and reputation, welcoming moviegoers from across the greater Tampa Bay area.
- As attendance increases from year to year, the festival attracts not only a larger audience, but also a more diverse one, reaching an increasingly multi-cultural and multi-generational demographic.
- The festival seeks Jewish-themed films that challenge conventional perspectives on complex issues facing the Jewish people and global community alike.
- Selected screenings are enhanced by providing a dynamic forum for audience dialogue with distinguished actors, producers, writers, and other expert panelists.
- The festival is proudly produced by Tampa JCCs & Federation and the Jewish Federation of Pasco & Pinellas Counties; both being 501(c) 3 non-profit organizations.
